CHANCE OF VICTORY

Surviving Octette.

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

Del Monte, Cal., September 4.— (Special.)—This amateur battle line became an open championship today when Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, stopped Bobby Jones on the final green of the morning round.

Never before has there been such clatter of golf crowns flopping from eminent heads as this first day brought about. Jones, the open and amateur champion of the United States, was one of the first. Don Moe, the western champion, fell before the keen blade of George Voigt in the afternoon. Cyril Tolley stopped Eddie Held, Canadian champion, with a wild rush of birdies and pars.

By the time night was coming on there were just eight golfers left from the 150 who started Monday morning and these eight represent one of the widest international and intersectional domains yet found among the last eight.

The survivors include Cyril Tolley, British champion; Doctor O. F.
Willing, the star of the northwest;
Jesse Sweetser and George Voigt, from New York; H. Chandler Egan, from Medford, Ore.; Jimmy Johnston, from St. Paul; Francis Ouimet, from Boston; and Lawson Little, from San Francisco.

South Is Out.
For the first time in many years the south had no entry left with the departure of Bobby Jones.

To carry the excitement further along, Little beat Goodman, the conqueror of Jones, in the afternoon match and Little is only 18 years old.
The field is still chock full of talent.

is Cyril Tolley, the big, far-flitting British champion who stormed and slashed his way through Held and Coleman with a display of golf that would have crushed almost anyone.
He played with magnificent confidence and power and control all day, stopping Eddie Held by 7 and 6 and then polishing off Fay Coleman, the conqueror of Gene Homans, by 8 and 6.

Tolley never saw the 14th green in any match. On Thursday he meets the grim, determined Doc Willing in a battle that will be build against bulldog all the way.

Tolley, Willing, Sweetser, Voigt, Ouimet and Johnston both played closely matched so there should be a wild scramble, with Jones missing, in the first 36-hole match. Sweetser, Voigt and Ouimet, representing the east, carried on gallantly so many miles away from home settings. When Voigt finished with Don Moe, western champion, this afternoon on the 17th green, he was 2 under 48 for the trip. Voigt was only one up at this point. Moe had just holed a good putt. Voigt then played a full wooden shot 3 feet from the cup to his 2, one of the great shots of the entire tournament.

In Path of Storm.
Tolley was something like 5 under par when he finished Coleman, who found himself in the path of a storm.
He had been 18 years since Harold Hilton won at Apawamis, the last British golfer to finish in front over here, but Tolley now has a star chance, considering the caliber of his opponents, to win the championship steadily, well within themselves.

They are among the favorites to keep moving up.
One of the last matches of the day,
apart from the Tolley-Willing fight, is the meeting between George Voigt and Jimmy Johnston. Both Sweetser and Ouimet have good chances to reach the last four, although Sweetser has a determined veteran to meet in Chandler Egan, who won the championship 25 years ago and who is still hitting the ball with the zip of youth and all the old touch of skill.

But, after all, it was the defeat of Bobby Jones that brought about the day's big sensation. When Jones, Von Elm and Phil Finlay all fell in the morning scramble the field looked as if it were a cyclone had arrived. Von Elm and Phil Finlay all fell in the morning scramble the field looked as if it were a cyclone had arrived.

Co-Medallists Defeated in First Round

At the right is Gene Homans and below Bob Jones, co-medallists in the national amateur, who were both eliminated Wednesday.

Homans, Princeton golfing ace, was defeated by Fay Coleman, California hope, 2-1, and Johnny Goodman, Omaha, Neb., favorite, put King Bobby out of the race in a bitterly-fought 18-hole match, 4 up.
Jones has won four amateur tournaments in the past five years.

W. E. TALLEY DIES
AT HOSPITAL HERE

Popular Capitol Official Was Deputy Clerk of Supreme Court and of Appeals Court.

W. E. Talley, deputy clerk of the supreme court and of the court of appeals and one of the most popular officials at the capitol, died at a private hospital late Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Talley, whose home was at 308 Ponce de Leon avenue, was the son of A. H. Talley and was born in Paulding county August 17, 1870. He was raised upon his father's farm in Cobb county near Lost Mountain. He attended local schools and later went to Gordon institute at Barnesville.

While a young man he taught school at Chatsworth, in Murray county, and at Millen, in Jenkins county. Later he engaged in business at Brunswick.

In the late 90s he came to Atlanta and studied law in the office of Culbertson, Willingham & Johnson, and was admitted to the bar in 1900. He remained in the office of the late H.
L. Culbertson until the organization of the court of appeals. He became connected with the office of the clerk of the supreme court in December, 1906, and had been chief deputy clerk of that court ever since.

In November, 1910, he was married in Washington, D. C., to Miss Ruby Allenway.
Mr. Talley is survived by his widow, two daughters, Rose Allenway and Yvonne; a son, E. Edgar, Jr.;

Brescia, Italy, September 4.—(Unit-searching through the wreckage of a fireworks factory which was destroyed by an explosion and fire near Montichiari this afternoon, tonight had recovered 17 bodies.

Fifty workers, most of them women, were in the factory when the explosion occurred. Twenty persons were injured, a number of them seriously. The search for further victims

ZEP TRANS-OCEAN LINE IS PLANNED

Goodyear and German Zeppelin Corporations To Establish Service, Officials State.

Akron, Ohio, September 4.—(AP)— Although no definite steps have been taken, the Goodyear-Zeppelin and German Zeppelin Corporations intend to establish trans-oceanic dirigible lines, it was announced today at the conclusion of conferences between Dr.
Hugo Eckener, builder of the Graf Zeppelin, and P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Corporation.

Eckener said the two firms undoubtedly would join in forming Zeppelin lines, but said no definite arrangements had been made. Litchfield in a formal statement said it would require from two to four years to place the lines in operation after the details had been worked out. He said he and Eckener had "been discussing all phases of lighter-than-air transportation all over the world, which will mean closer co-operation between all units involved."

He did not explain what "units"
he meant, but said the German corporation had kept the Dollar Steamship lines informed of its Pacific plans and has been in touch with New York financial houses.

Litchfield also announced that Knut Eckener, son of the commander of the Graf Zeppelin, will join the company.

WOOD FOUND DEAD

Sixty-Hour Search for Veteran Pilot Ends at Desolate Desert Spot
Near Needles.

Needles, Cal., September 4.—(AP)—
A 60-hour search for the veteran pilot,
Major John H. Wood, 32, Wausau, Wis., ended today with discovery of his body in the wreckage of his racing airplane at a point 38 miles northwest of Needles, dashing faint hopes of his rescue.

Smith and Lott expressed opinions from the world court. This reservation which proved unacceptable
to members of the court gave the United States the right to ask for advisory opinion.

It said that the court could not,
with the consent of the United States,
express opinions on questions in which
the United States possessed or claimed an interest. Mr. Root's formula provides for negotiations between the United States and the council of the league in each individual case when the United States has any objection to the proposal to ask for advisory opinion. It is judged that such negotiations would lead to an agreement whether an opinion should be requested.

An unconfirmed report spread tonight that the official conversations between Great Britain and the United States, as far as they have gone, do not necessarily mean reduction of naval forces but rather a stabilization.

Premier Briand, of France, tonight had a long talk with Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, of Great Britain.
They touched lightly on naval matters and dealt especially with the project to revise the league covenant and to strengthen it by incorporation of the Kellogg anti-war pact.

M. Briand disclosed that in his speech tomorrow he will refer to his plan to bring into being a Europe confederated economically, and it is probable that he will propose appointment of a commission to investigate the question.

U. S. WORLD COURT
ENTRY CONDITIONS
OKAYED AT HAGUE

Delegates of Forty Nations Approve Root Protocol for American Participation in Tribunal.

Geneva, September 4.—(AP)—Delegates of 40 countries belonging to the World Court for international justice gathered here today, unanimously approved the revised protocol prepared by the famous American jurist, Elihu Root, for adherence of the United States to the world tribunal.

Trying hard to forget the intense heat that is harrassing the internal gathering, representatives of member nations of the court met to discuss its reorganization, but at the suggestion of the Cuban delegation changed its program and began the discussion of American participation in the work of The Hague institution.

The unanimous approval of the Root protocol will be made the subject of official notification to the United States government.

During the discussion of the protocol text, Sir George Foster, speaking for Canada, said his country is delighted to think that her neighbor and friend now is likely to join the great Hague court which is dedicated to the administration of international justice. What was lacking between the United States and the court signatures, said Sir George, was the conflict of conferences. Had these taken place before, he said, American participation might well have been realized several years ago.

The protocol now will go before the assembly of the league for approval.
This is considered a mere formality.
Sir Cecil Harst, representing Great Britain, pointed out that the assembly's prerogatives in connection with requesting the court to give advisory opinions is affected by the protocol and thus the assembly's approval is essential. The protocol doubtless will be opened for signatures by all states.
The conference today proceeded with the idea that the United States senate will ratify the protocol.

Elihu Root is considered to have found an ingenious way of getting around the famous fifth American representation concerning advisory opinions from the World Court. This reservation which proved unacceptable
to members of the court gave the United States the right to ask for advisory opinion.

It said that the court could not,
with the consent of the United States,
express opinions on questions in which
the United States possessed or claimed
an interest. Mr. Root's formula provides for negotiations between the United States and the council of the league in each individual case when

opinion. It is judged that such negotiations would lead to an agreement whether an opinion should be

The company, which has been functransport company to pay dividends, is an independent concern but well financed, Mr. Edgerton said. It was indicated that should the line be es-co-operate in the erection of a new airport, readily accessible to the cen-

Operates on Large Scale.
In every case the company has small mail planes to big cabin trans-pullman planes to seat 32 passengers and have 16 sleepers.

Western Air Express Con-

Atlanta's rapid development into the aviation center of the south with in the last 12 months has brought recognition from one of the oldest and largest aerial transportation companies in the west and consideration is being given by that company, the Western Air Express, to linking this city with Los Angeles and New York City on the route of a new southern transcontinental air passenger transport line, H. G. Edgerton, traveling passenger representative of Western Air Express, stated Wednesday.

Mr. Edgerton, with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., left for Florida
Wednesday night after spending three days in the city, making personal contacts for the Western Air Express and investigating conditions with regard to the advisability of linking Atlanta with the east and west coast in a new southern air route sometime in the near future.

Amazed At Growth.
"My present trip through the south has proven a revelation with regard to the rapid growth of aviation interests," Mr. Edgerton stated Wednesday. "It is just such interest on the part of residents of a section that make commercial aviation in that section practicable."

The new southern transcontinental route being contemplated by officials of the Western Air Express would lead from Los Angeles to El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Birmingham, Atlanta, Washington and to New York.
The line would be established in units and already is in operation from Los Angeles to El Paso.

Wading in Stream, Two Youths Are Drowned Together as One Slips on Creek Bed.

Decatur, Ga., September 4.—(Special.)—Unable to swim, two small brothers wading this morning in Snap-finger creek about eight miles from here, were drowned when one slipped on the bed of the stream, clutched the other and both were swept into a deep sink known as "Watson's Hole."

The bodies of the two youths, James O'Dell "Buck" Wilson, 9, and his elder brother, Albert Lee Wilson, 11, were recovered late this afternoon from the almost cavernous depths of the pool after a group of men had dragged and probed the bottom of the sink for more than four hours.

Accompanied by a third youth, whose name DeKalb county police had not learned, the two brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson, who live near Brown's Mill, on the Wesley Chapel road, left their home about 10 o'clock this morning and went almost directly to the scene of the tragedy.

The three boys removed their clothes and went into the stream. The third youth, about 10 years old, was said to be able to swim fairly well, while the two Wilson boys could not. The brothers remained in a waist-deep portion of the creek and attempted to locate the bodies of the boys. After half an hour's search for rescuing them alive was abandoned and dragging material obtained.

It was past mid-afternoon when the grapnels located the bodies of the two brothers. They were removed to the funeral parlors of A. S. Turner at Decatur, where an inquest probably will be held tomorrow morning, police said.

The third youth clambered to the bank and half-clad, fled to a nearby house and sounded the alarm. Immediately search for the youths was begun by men who plunged into the creek and attempted to locate the bodies of the boys. After half an

TRAGEDY STAGED IN DESOLATE AREA

Company Officials Confirm Early Reports; One Woman Among Eight Victims Found Dead.

Los Angeles, September 4.—(AP)—H.
W. Beck, western division traffic manager of Transcontinental Air Transport, tonight issued an official statement saying that all eight occupants of the missing T. A. T. air liner City of San Francisco were dead, and that an investigation was underway.
The statement was authorized by the company's general offices in St. Louis, after the finding of the wrecked plane near Gallup, N. M.

The official announcement follows:
"The T. A. T. plane lost September 3, between Albuquerque and Winslow, was just reported found by a mail carrier 23 miles south of Gallup, in the Black Rock Wash country.

"The mail carrier's report, delivered to a Santa Fe agent and authenticated by Santa Fe and Western Union, states that, apparently, the plane was struck by lightning, and all passengers killed.

"T. A. T. men from Winslow are proceeding immediately to the scene of the accident to make a thorough investigation."

Beck announced also that regular passenger service from Los Angeles east, halted today while all available planes searched for the missing liner, would be resumed Thursday, the first ship taking off at 8:45 a. m., or perhaps an hour later, depending on weather reports.

First reports of the finding of the wrecked ship indicated it had been struck by lightning after veering off its regular course yesterday to dodge storms in New Mexico.

It was an all-metal tri-motored transport, one of the newest in the service, and had left Albuquerque at 10:22 o'clock yesterday morning for Los Angeles.

Pilot J. B. Stowe, one of the veteran navigators of the line, was at the controls when the big monoplane

TRAMPS BLAMED AS FIRE DESTROYS EMPTY BOX CARS

Fire Wednesday morning destroyed two empty box cars and damaged six others in the yards near Marietta street and Longley avenue. The cars were on the property of several different railroads and, according to firemen, were old and out of repair. A burned hand suffered by Fireman Pittman, of Station 16, was the only casualty of the fire, whose origin was not determined. Tramps were blamed for the blaze in the official fire report.

Ominous Clouds But Little Rain Seen for Today

Dark, ominous-looking clouds will continue to hover over the city today but no rain is expected until Friday or Saturday, when the showers will be accompanied by a drop in temperature, according to the forecast of A. H. Scott, assistant meteorologist at the local United States weather bureau.

The temperature range today will be a little above that of Wednesday, he figures, with extremes of 70 and 80, scheduled to go on the forecast books. Occasional showers which fell in this vicinity throughout the day Wednesday were said to have been very helpful.

PLANS TO IMPROVE WEST END STREETS RECEIVE APPROVAL

Plans for the fall season were outlined at a well attended meeting of the executive committee of the South Fulton Civic Federation, held at the West End Civic clubhouse, Wednesday night. Dr. W. Beecher DuVall, president, presided.

It was decided to hold a mass meeting in the near future at the West End clubhouse at which a program decided upon by the executive committee will be presented. Immediate widening of Whitehall street, extension of Ashby street into Lee, completion of 10th avenue through to Pryor street, and further widening of Lee street, will be urged at the mass meeting.

The executive committee also passed a resolution thanking the police department for its diligence in protecting children during the school year and urging that this service be continued during the fall term.

19 Chinese Tars Held in Savannah To Be Deported

Savannah, Ga., September 4.—(AP) Nineteen Chinese sailors, members of the crew of the British steamer Inchairnie, who have been held in jail here awaiting deportation, are to leave tomorrow for San Francisco en route to China, authorities said today.

The Inchairnie, which was towed here from the Bahamas after encountering difficulties in crossing the Atlantic, is said to have been abandoned by its owner after the crew was taken into custody and libel brought against the craft for wages.

Jung Hong, a Chinese, who was found to be without citizenship papers when he sought to obtain permission to visit his native land and return, also will be taken to San Francisco tomorrow for deportation. Hong contended that he was born here.

JURY RECOMMENDS MERCY FOR SLAYER IN ROBBERY TRY

Cedartown, Ga., September 4.—(AP) R. C. Poe, of Birmingham, Ala., tonight was found guilty of the murder of Sam Greer, of Stone Mountain, Ga., by a Polk county superior court jury that required less than an hour to arrive at a verdict. The jury recommended mercy.

The state contended Greer, while on a visit to a daughter at Aragon, Ga., stopped to chat with passengers there and was fatally wounded by shots from an automobile driven by Poe which the officers tried to stop.

Evidence was introduced to show that Poe, Martin Shumuck and Ernest Smith attempted to rob the Aragon mills and after being interrupted by a watchman, fled through the town firing shots that killed Greer.

Poe testified he lost his way near Rome, Ga., and drove through Aragon the night of June 23, when the killing occurred. He said he did not fire any shots himself but that his two companions returned the fire of a party of men who shot at their car. Both Shumuck and Smith are under murder indictments and are expected to be tried at the present term of Polk county superior court.

$800 RING RECOVERED

Property of Mrs. Walters
Pawned for $12.

Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole Wednesday announced recovery of a diamond ring valued at $800, the property of Mrs. H. L. Walters, of 78 Montgomery Ferry drive.

Detectives were given a description of the ring by Mrs. Walters, who said it was stolen from her home last week. The ring was located in a Peters street pawnshop, where it had been pawned by a negro for $12.

Atlantan Slain While Acting As Peacemaker

The body of Lonnie Carithers, 29, of 764 Central avenue, who was killed while trying to act as peacemaker, will be brought here today from Etowah, Tenn., for services at the graveside in East Lake cemetery at 2 o'clock. The parents of Mr. Carithers, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carithers, left Atlanta Wednesday morning to accompany the body of their son to Atlanta.

According to reports received here Wednesday, Carithers lost his life in the Tennessee city Tuesday night as the result of his attempt to separate two duels who were slashing each other with knives. Carithers received his fatal injuries when he tried to throw his body between the two men.

BELIEVED DEAD, MAN IS REPORTED SEEN IN MISSISSIPPI

Harrison Dunn, former Atlantan, believed to have been dead since 1891, recently was reported to have been seen in Mississippi, where he was seeking to enlist negroes in a cotton picking project, according to relatives. This rumor has caused his niece, Mrs. Susie Bolton, who lives at 720 Bankhead highway, to institute a search for him.

Mrs. Bolton stated Wednesday morning that members of the family had been informed that Mr. Dunn died either in Arkansas or Texas early in 1891. Efforts which have been made to communicate with Dunn's wife, formerly Miss Hattie McMath, of Little Rock, Ark., have been unsuccessful.

AUGUST REPORTS SHOW 136 STOLEN AUTOS RECOVERED

Records at police headquarters show a net gain of six automobiles by the automobile theft squad for August. This is due to the fact that more automobiles were recovered by Detective Chief Poole's sleuths than were stolen. The records show that 136 cars were reported stolen during August, while 136 were recovered.

Detectives George Barrett, L. H. Satterfield, J. A. McKibben and S. A. Smith, working in pairs, accounted for 91 stolen machines, while the uniformed members of the city constabulary gathered in 45 machines.

Detective Chief A. Lamar Poole reported to Chief J. L. Beavers that his department had answered 793 calls and arrested 388 persons during the month, only seven of whom drew dismissals on hearing. Total fines paid into recorder's court were $2,895.

Among the arrests were 95 persons charged with infractions of prohibition laws.

Mrs. L. A. Heizenberger, of 755 Adair avenue, reported to police Wednesday that upon the return of the family from a two months' vacation, it was found that jewelry valued at more than $300 had been stolen from the residence. One of the front windows in the Heizenberger home was found broken, and the interior of the home in general disorder. Dressers, cabinets, desks, tables, trunks and even suitcases had been ransacked. Among the missing jewelry were two watches, a baby bracelet, a locket, two rings and a string of pearls.

SCHNEIDER CUP SEAPLANE ENTRY BADLY DAMAGED

Calshot, England, September 4.—(AP) The S-6, one of Great Britain's greatest hopes for retaining the Schneider cup race title in the international seaplane races Friday and Saturday, was badly damaged today when Flying Officer Waghorn landed the craft too near a freight lighter in the Solent.

While the plane drifted rapidly, Waghorn climbed out on the cockpit to one of the floats and kept the plane from a serious collision. A tug came to the rescue of the S-6 and towed it to the Calshot air station, where the port wing was found damaged. A new one probably will be needed. The accident occurred after squadron leader Oeleber, chief British pilot for the races, had tried vainly six times to take off in a sister ship to the S-6. He was forced to return to the Calshot slipway without having left the water.

FLIGHT OF SUSPECT IN THEFT IS HALTED BY AUTO ACCIDENT

Discovery of three bedsprings, the property of former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick, and attempt of the suspect in the theft to escape, only to be stopped abruptly when he was hit by an auto, Wednesday featured investigation by detectives of the disappearance of a number of articles from the warehouse of an Atlanta transfer company.

The bedsprings, which had been stored in the warehouse, were found in a negro house on North Boulevard by Detectives D. E. Blair and R. E. Whitley. They immediately arrested Gene Winder, negro, 19, of 53 Bradley street, who had been employed by the company for three weeks.

The suspect was taken to police station and lined up before the sergeant. While still protesting his innocence he thought he saw a chance to escape and darted out of police station and up Decatur street. He

IS THIS YOUR SMILE?

Or are you afraid to smile this way? Does acid drive wedges into your teeth enamel, which later develop into cavities?

Turn to Pebecco... the one tooth paste which scientifically checks "acid-mouth." Pebecco more than cleans teeth—it saves them. It stimulates the flow of saliva which neutralizes the mouth acids caused by food ferment. Try it a week... and you'll know the reason for its tremendous popularity.—Adv.

NATIONAL FOOD PRESERVATION PROGRAM

How to safeguard your family's health this winter

Health centers upon the food we eat. You know that. And so for your family you buy the best of nourishing food.

But do you preserve this food safely, economically? Doctors and public health authorities are agreed that only artificial refrigeration the year around safely guards perishable food products. Cold is the conqueror of those tiny micro-organisms that cause food to spoil. Fifty degrees is the danger point. When the temperature creeps above that point bacteria multiply astonishingly. When it falls too low—as in back-porch and window-sill makeshifts—foods freeze, lose their nourishment value.

Whether the calendar says June or January, artificial refrigeration keeps the temperature exactly where it should be to avoid waste, and guards the health of your family.

ALABAMAN CONFESSES STABBING WIFE'S LOVER

Aged Restaurant Operator Confesses Slaying at Ardmore.

Ardmore, Ala., September 4.—(AP)—Eugene Poff, 60-year-old restaurant operator, today told Limestone county authorities that he stabbed Harry Hunter, 25-year-old merchant, to death last night when he found Hunter holding a tryst with Mrs. Poff. Poff said he suspected illicit relations between Hunter and his 52-year-old wife and that he followed her to Hunter's store shortly after sundown yesterday. He said he kicked open the back door and found his wife in Hunter's embrace.

He then related that he attacked Hunter, slashing him about the face with a knife and dragging his body to a ditch where he stabbed him in the heart.

Mrs. Poff, when questioned by Sheriff J. C. Clem, today said she had gone to Hunter's store last night, and as she entered someone came in from the rear and "started a racket." She said she became frightened and ran away and did not see the intruder.

Hunter's mutilated body was found early today after an all-night search. Poff was arrested several hours later when he could not account for blood stains on his clothing.

Poff was held tonight at the Limestone county jail in Athens. Preliminary hearing has been set for next Monday.

Hunter was married and the father of two children.

Drive Planned for Orphans' Home

An appeal to Atlantians for playground equipment for the children pictured above, and their fellow inmates of the Home for the Friendless, will be made next week, and a generous response is expected. While the home is supported by the city, county and Community Chest, the sum of $10,000 must be raised for playground equipment, in order that the children may be given an opportunity to develop along proper lines. The new home of the institution, now under construction on Courtenay drive, in Boulevard park, includes ample playground space, but the facilities for play are lacking. Where the present home on Highland avenue is cramped and crowded, the new home property is set in an attractive woodland, with plenty of room for the children to romp. The plant is being built on the bungalow unit plan, and four of the five cottages will be ready for occupancy in time for Christmas dinner.

MOORE ACCUSED OF VIOLATIONS OF ELECTION LAW

New Orleans, September 4.—(AP)—Clarence Greer Moore, who was appointed to the New Orleans dock board by Governor Long and resigned shortly afterward, was charged today by District Attorney Eugene Stanley with violating the state election law by falsely swearing in seeking registration.

Conviction under the act would carry a mandatory prison term of not less than 60 days nor more than one year. Earlier today the district attorney filed the charge under a milder provision but later changed it.

District Attorney Stanley said the charge against Moore was the beginning of a sweeping investigation into the New Orleans' parish election system. He said Moore would be released on nominal bond of $1,000.

When Mr. Moore's eligibility as a citizen of Louisiana and qualified voter was questioned first, he said he was a resident of New Orleans since August 1, 1927. But the records showed, the district attorney charged, that he voted in Bay St. Louis on August 2, 1927, and that he voted four times in Mississippi in 1928.

NEW CALENDAR IS SUBMITTED SCIENCE BODY

Leningrad, September 4.—(AP)—A newly devised calendar was submitted today to the Academy of Science by Professor Mendelayev. It divides the year into 12 months of 30 days each, with each month divided into five weeks of six days. Each month has 25 working days and five rest days. The missing five days in an ordinary year and six days of leap year would be holidays.

FIVE DEATHS RESULT FROM CHICAGO HEAT

Temperatures Mount Under Blistering Sun—Hottest Day Recorded.

Chicago, September 4.—(AP)—A blistering sun from which little relief was promised was held responsible today for five deaths—four in Chicago and one in Sawyer, Mich.

Temperatures in the 90s were common in the middlewest yesterday, Chicago having a high of 91 degrees, the hottest September 3 in 31 years. At other places the mercury bounded up to the 90s, causing several deaths and much suffering.

The weather bureau reported that the day's highest temperature had been exceeded only twice this year, once by 1.8 degrees and once by 2 degrees. The forecast for today was

So serious has the present drought become that the federal barge line operating out of St. Louis to southern Mississippi river points announced partial suspension of service. The line refused to handle commodities in quantity and served notice that schedules could not be maintained. The river at St. Louis was at 3 feet on a falling stage.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

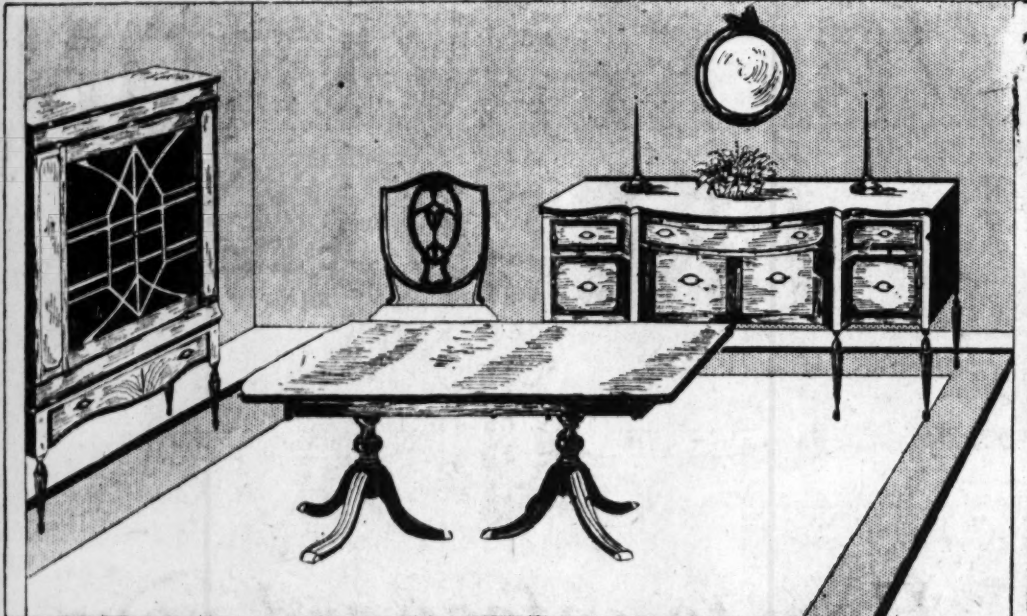

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1876.—(adv.)

TOUGH & HAPPY

an assurance to
TIME readers

Normally a publication is obliged to worry about how much advertising it can get along without.

TIME is now obliged to worry about how much advertising it can get along with.

To this tough and happy problem, TIME now announces a tentative solution, to wit: Until the end of 1930, no issue of TIME will exceed eighty pages plus cover and color inserts.

A year hence, TIME will reconsider the problem with respect to 1931.

It hopes the problem will still exist; if so, the same page limitation will, in all probability, be decreed. Cover-to-cover readers never need fear. TIME, complete, will continue terse—semper fidelis.

City Council Will Hold Meeting Today To Pass On City Hall Site Lease

Bid of Palmer, Inc., Will Be Considered at Special Called Session This Afternoon.

City council at a special session beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon will consider the bid of Palmer, Inc., for lease of the site of the present city hall.

Mayor I. N. Ragdale will issue the official call today, but will not include any other matters in it unless something urgent develops between now and the time of the meeting.

C. F. Palmer, Inc., and his associates are making the bid for a client whom they have not yet named, seeking the lease for a 50-year period with an option to renew it for another 13 years and at the expiration of the second term for another 38 years. Aggregate rental for the ground for the 99-year period is $5,730,000.

A heated councilmanic battle over the lease is expected, since many members of council favor the proposal and others hold that the total increment to the city is too little for the valuable tract.

Lessee will construct a building valued at not less than $1,000,000 and the figure may reach $3,000,000, according to Mr. Palmer.

The tract itself, under the terms of the proposal would be tax free, but lessee would pay taxes on the improvement.

JURY TO TRY TO STRIKE LEADERS IS COMPLETED

Twelfth Juror Selected for Gastonia Murder Trial.

Charlotte, N. C., September 4.—(AP)—The almost Herculean task of selecting 12 jurors to try the Gastonia labor leaders and strikers for murder of a police chief was ended this afternoon—nine days after Judge M. V. Barnhill convened court to try the case—and the prosecution attorneys asked for a recess until tomorrow to enable them to hold a last-minute conference.

When a tall, thin farmer, John Phillips, father of three children, passed by the defense attorneys, the jury panel was completed and the prosecution immediately made their request for the adjournment.

The selection of the jury had taken seven days, and more than 600 veniremen had been summoned in securing the 12 men to sit in judgment on the 16 who face murder charges in connection with the death of O. F. Aderholt, Gastonia police chief.

The police chief was shot and fatally wounded on the night of June 7, as he and other officers entered the tent colony of the Lory textile mill strikers.

The jury, which will hear the cases of 13 men accused of first degree murder, and three women accused of second degree murder, is composed of four farmers, two textile workers, a railroad clerk, a railroad mechanic, a carpenter, a grocer's clerk, a steel worker and a newsdealer. Two of the men are members of the Brotherhood of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, an American Federation of Labor union, and the other the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen.

They are Zeb Morris, Jr., Matthews, farmer; E. M. Stillwell, Matthews, farmer; John Phillips, Mecklenburg county, farmer; S. L. Caldwell, Huntersville, farmer; J. W. Hicks, Huntersville, textile worker; C. G. Torrence, Davidson, textile worker; C. A. Martin, Charlotte, carpenter; G. L. Benson, Newell, railroad clerk; J. G. Campbell, Charlotte, newsdealer; G. L. Shuford, Charlotte, railroad carman; A. F. Parker, Charlotte, grocer's clerk; and J. O. McCoy, Charlotte, steel worker.

All of the jurors are married except Benson and Campbell. Two are not church members and the others belong to Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches.

Attorneys had a slight tilt this afternoon before adjournment regarding examination of state's witnesses. Early last week, in accordance with the custom in North Carolina jurisprudence, the state had given the defense its list of witnesses and had allowed the defense to conduct an examination of witnesses it desired.

To Examine Witnesses.
This afternoon, however, Arthur Garfield Hayes, chief counsel of the American Civil Liberties Union, member of the defense counsel, said the defense wished to complete its examination of state's witnesses before the taking of testimony was begun.

Solicitor John G. Carpenter was on his feet immediately, and said every opportunity had been given the defense to examine the witnesses and that the state was anxious to have its conference. Judge Barnhill said he was not aware the conference had not been conducted.

Mr. Hayes replied some witnesses had been seen but there were others the defense was very anxious to question. To this Solicitor Carpenter replied he would do his "level best" to produce the witnesses providing defense would furnish names of those desired and Mr. Hayes thanked him, assuring him he would comply with this request at an early hour.

The day was spent much in the same manner as the last seven days, with state and defense continuing their careful scrutiny of all prospective jurors.

The state had used all but four of its peremptory challenges when court reconvened this afternoon and the defense was down to 45.

One juror, E. M. Stillwell, of Matthews, was chosen this morning and the final meeting was held until several hours later this afternoon.

Bork was en route home from Key West. He had picked up Shaw at Gainesville and Warren at Madison.

Warren, son of Mrs. Grace F. Warren, Alachua county home demonstration agent, and Shaw were taken to a local hospital.

Spasms of Asthma

And for Simple Nasal Irritations Use the Old Herbal Mixture—

Dr. Blosser's Medical Cigarettes

Dr. Blosser originated the formula over 50 years ago. It consists of berries, herbs, leaves and seeds that produce a smoke that is soothing to the mucous membranes of the head and throat.

These cigarettes have been used in increasing quantities not only in the United States, but in many foreign countries as well. Most every drug store has them in stock.

In the next attack of asthma, or when you have simple nasal irritations, light one of these medical cigarettes and see how it eases the breathing and clears out the head. See why so many people keep them at hand, always ready for the next attack.—(adv.)

New Road shock Eliminator .. and New Steering Gear

make Buick the easiest car in the world to drive!

The road shock eliminator—built into the front of the frame on the steering gear side—absorbs every jolt and jar arising from road inequalities, and thus prevents their transmission to the steering wheel and the driver's hands.

Such are the fine results of two matchless new quality features in the 1930 Buick—two features which add to this car's appeal as the greatest dollar value of the day: a wonderful new frictionless steering gear, and the new Buick road shock eliminator!

The new Buick steering gear, of the effective worm-and-roller type, moves with incomparable ease throughout its entire turning range, assuring instant, effortless response to the driver's every wish.

Come drive this new Buick. Head for the sort of road you ordinarily avoid as too rough for comfortable travel. Test these twin features of comfort which make the new Buick the easiest steering automobile in its field!

Resolution of Navy Problem Must Be Reached or Failure Admitted, Experts Say

Impression of Officials Demands Early Settlement of Problem by U. S. and Britain.

BY LYLE C. WILSON,
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, September 4.—The impression is growing among officials at the United States and Great Britain must soon find agreement on the naval problem or admit failure of the Hoover-MacDonald program for naval reduction.

that two to four weeks of concentrated effort ought to produce an agreement or conclusively prove agreement is not possible now.

Progress to date has been confined largely to generalities. The United States conceded Britain's need for small cruisers beyond the requirements of the United States. Great Britain intimated willingness to revise downward the number of 10,000-ton cruisers necessary for her purposes. Both agree that actual equality of naval strength is the proper ratio between them. Details now must be worked out.

Three Points Remain.
Premier MacDonald said three points remained to be adjusted before agreement could be announced. Investigation here revealed only two outstanding problems—both of them difficult:

1. The level at which the parity shall be established.

2. The comparative value of small and large cruisers.

These two matters were discussed today at a White House breakfast at which Secretaries Stimson and Adams, of the navy; Undersecretary of State Cotton, Assistant Secretary of Navy Jahncke and a dozen admirals and captains were Mr. Hoover's guests. Members of the navy general board went into executive session after leaving the White House and subsequently were joined by Adams and Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of naval operations.

Problem Peculiar.
The problem of cruiser strength is considered to be peculiarly one for consideration of Great Britain and the United States. If London and Washington can adjust the cruiser problem, the destroyers, submarines, capital ships and airplane carriers could be cared for at a conference between Japan, France, Italy, Great Britain and the United States.

The life of Premier MacDonald's government in Great Britain may be said to be almost at stake upon the outcome of the naval reduction program. President Hoover's prestige internationally and at home would suffer from failure to agree. These two considerations are emphasized by those who express confidence agreement will be reached this month.

REPORT OF MENINGITIS SEEN IN TRION DEATHS

Three Physicians Said To Be Ready To Give Opinions on "Mystery" Sickness.

Trion, Ga., September 4.—(P)—Two local physicians and a Chattanooga, Tenn., specialist today were ready to report to an investigating doctor en route here at the instance of the Georgia state board of health that they have definitely determined that the illness that in the past ten days killed two children of the Chandler family and affected four others is spinal meningitis.

It was at first believed that the sickness was a form of food poisoning contracted at a birthday dinner for a grandmother, but this theory has been discarded.

The dead are Dearwood Chandler, 3, and Carolyn Chandler 11 months, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chandler, whose daughter Violet, 12, is now suffering from the malady. A second daughter, Winford, 9, was ill for a few days but appears to have recovered. The children's cousin, Catherine Erwin, 3, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. George Erwin, and Leland Chandler, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chandler, said to be progressing satisfactorily.

The three residences of the children have been placed under a meningitis quarantine.

The condition of the crop is approximately 55 to 60 per cent better than last year and would have averaged even better had the weather been favorable the last ten days in July.

With favorable picking weather during the past ten days half of the crop in this section is gathered, which is practically true of an area comprising parts of Dodge, Telfair and Wheeler counties from a survey made by R. L. Kinchen & Co., one of the largest cotton buying firms in this section.

THREE ROCK ISLAND TRAINS WILL HAVE NEW EQUIPMENT

Chicago, Ill., September 4.—(Special.)—Three of the Rock Island's crack passenger trains—the Golden State Limited, the Rocky Mountain Limited and the Iowa-Nebraska Limited, all running out of Chicago—are to have new equipment from stem to stern. Equipping these trains with new cars and motive power, made especially for the Rock Island, involves the largest single passenger equipment order ever received by any railroad at one time. The order, in addition to other equipment, calls for 52 Pullman cars, each representing the "last word" in Pullman manufacturing.

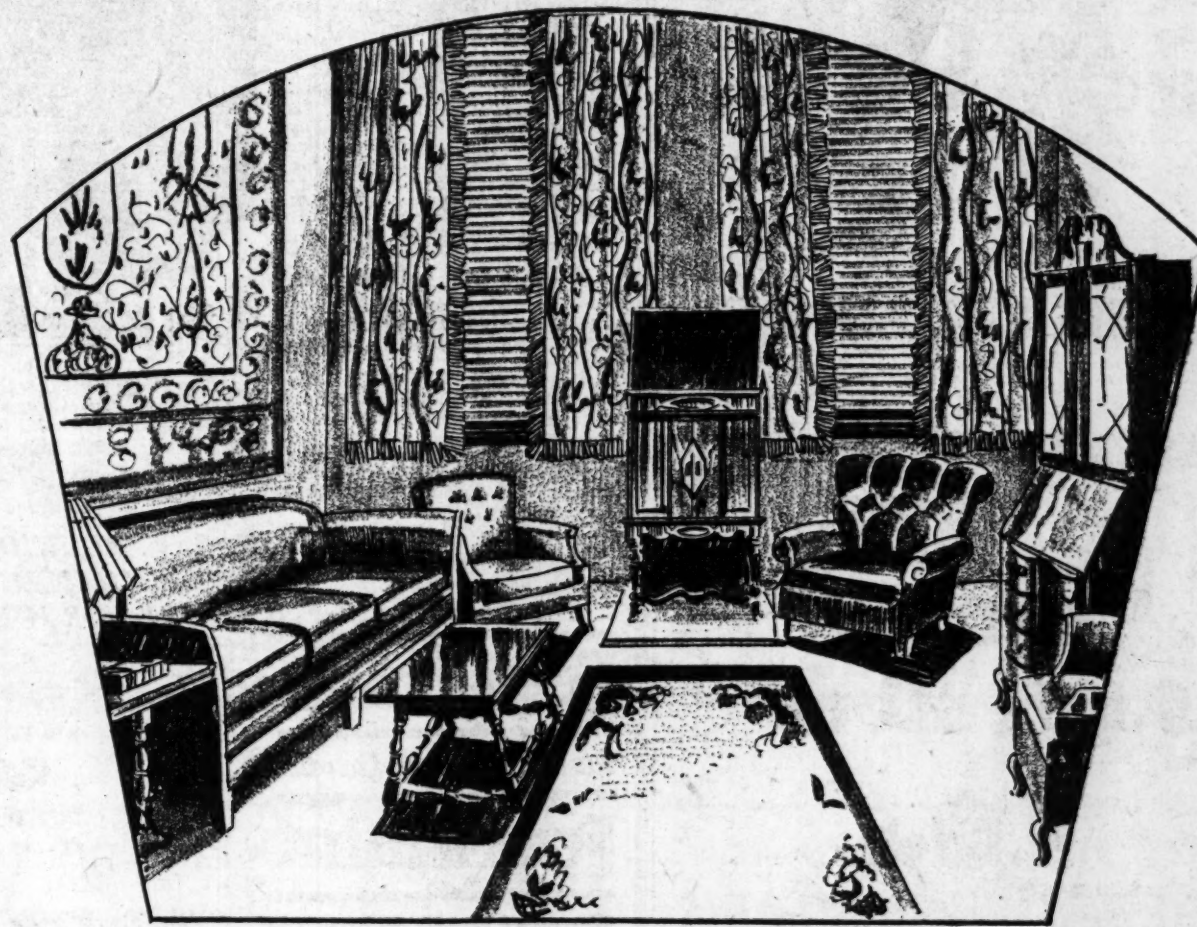

The new equipment will serve the Rock Island's California, Colorado and midwest patrons, and will be put into service at once. Besides the new locomotives, the equipment will consist of baggage cars, baggage-smokers, smoking-room coaches, chair, dining, parlor, club and observation-class cars, combination Pullman section-drawing-room-compartment cars and combination section-observation cars.

"This new equipment," said L. M. Allen, vice president and passenger traffic manager, today, "truly represents what we shall advertise it to be throughout the United States—America's newest, finest trains." It represents the last-minute development in railway passenger service and we of the Rock Island feel that this new service will help to give to the territory in which we operate the recognition it deserves. An investment of approximately $1,200,000 is represented in the newly-equipped trains."

MOTORCAR OF SLAIN FARMER IS LOCATED

Auto Found 7 Miles From Where Jeff Davis' Bullet-Pierced Body Lay.

Colquitt, Ga., September 4.—(P)—Jeff Davis' automobile, which authorities had been unable to find after the recovery on Monday of the farmer's bullet-pierced body from Aycock creek, was found today on the settlement road between Enterprise and Iron City, about seven miles from the place where the body was taken from the creek. Nearby families said that two automobiles had been seen late Saturday night close to where the Davis car was located and that one of the two machines contained four men. On the theory that Davis was taken from his Miller county home Saturday and slain before the start of a week-end trip he had planned to his Meigs home led authorities yesterday to arrest his two negro employees. They have refused to answer questions put to them by officers. Davis was believed to have carried about $300 at the time of his death, none of which was found on the body.

The dates were suggested in a telegram to him from Edmund R. Wiles, business manager for the reunion. The Buena Vista hotel was selected for headquarters.

YOUNG MAN SHOTS FORMER SWEETHEART

Richmond, Ky., September 4.—(P)—Parker Taylor, 23, last night shot and wounded Mrs. Margaret Spicer, 18, his former sweetheart, and then shot and seriously wounded himself. Taylor has a slight chance for recovery, doctors say. Mrs. Spicer was shot twice through the left arm.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Spicer's father, Cash Todd, near here in Madison county. Mrs. Spicer, formerly Margaret Todd, was at one time Taylor's sweetheart, according to friends. While on a visit to her sister at Owenton, Ky., she met P. S. Spicer, of Owenton, and married him.

Mrs. Spicer was visiting her parents. Last night Taylor called and asked her to step out on the porch as he wanted to talk to her. Later the shots rang out and her parents rushed out to find their daughter shot twice through the arm and Taylor with a bullet wound above the heart.

No charges have been preferred against Taylor.

THOMSON YOUTH PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN MURDER CASE

Thomson, Ga., September 4.—(P)—Hunter Clary, son of a former sheriff of McDuffie county, pleaded not guilty here today to charges arising from the killing of his father-in-law, George S. Story, last May 17, and a jury of eight farmers, two merchants, a salesman and a bank cashier was selected to try him for murder.

After 11 veniremen had been questioned the following jurors were chosen: E. H. McCord, W. C. Guy, W. E. Greene, J. A. Crawley, J. F. Guy, T. W. Smith, L. P. Wither, T. P. Phillips, George L. Rodgers, S. M. Haywood, C. B. Warr, Jr., and Lawton Stone.

Court attaches said a confession that Clary was reported to have made at Augusta on the day of the killing left insanity or self-defense as possible grounds for his not guilty plea, but his attorneys declined to discuss the case.

CHICAGO MILKMEN QUIT EARLY HOURS; TO WORK DAYTIMES

Chicago, September 4.—(P)—Coming one with the milkman, a quaint custom originated by persons who loitered too long at their cups, no longer will be a sign of a hectic evening in Chicago. Milkmen have decided to work in the daytime.

It is the opinion of the milk drivers' union that the public doesn't want its milk delivered before dawn. Hardly anybody ever gets up that early, if the union is correctly informed. Eight o'clock in the morning is about the right time to start deliveries, the union says, and beginning today it is that way.

Reiterating and such, therefore, will hereafter be done by themselves.

Catarrh Is Serious Handicap on Victim

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing, thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, coughs, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given so uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runyon, known to your druggist as Runyon's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clear, greaseless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

Ask your druggist for WHITE WONDER today or mail thirty-five cents for a family jar, postpaid. White Wonder Chemical Company, 2 Greil Bldg., Montgomery, Ala. O slogan—"Perfect satisfaction or your money back."—(adv.)

Beautiful teeth, firm and white -with a minimum of brushing

BEGIN today using Listerine Tooth Paste and see how quickly it rids teeth of discoloration and deposits and makes them white and lustrous. Brushing is reduced to a minimum.

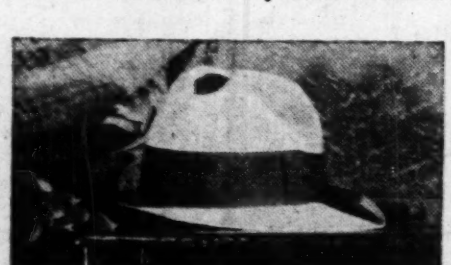

That is because we have included in this paste, modern polishing agents. They are harder than tartar but softer than enamel. So they quickly remove the former and polish the latter without damage.

Carried by your brush, they penetrate and cleanse tiny crevices between the teeth where decay so often gets the upper hand.

After you have used Listerine Tooth Paste

note how clean, fresh, healthy, and invigorated your entire mouth feels—something like the sensation given you by Listerine, itself.

It must be evident to you that Listerine

Tooth Paste is exceptional else it would not have leaped from obscurity to leadership in 4 years. Try it yourself. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

SHIPPING LINE TO FAIL UNLESS BID ACCEPTED

Mississippi Shipping Company Formed in Hope of Securing Mail Contract.

Washington, September 4.—(AP)—President Hoover was told today by Senators Randall, Louisiana, and Burton, of Ohio, that unless the Mississippi Shipping Company is awarded contracts for carrying mail between New Orleans and South American countries it "will be destroyed."

The Munson line, which operates its own ships, was the lowest bidder for the mail contract at $2 a mile. The Mississippi Shipping Company, which purchased and is operating United States line vessels, bid $2.50 a mile.

The senators told the president that the Mississippi company purchased the vessels on the assumption that they would be awarded the mail contracts and that unless these were forthcoming the ships might have to be turned back to the government.

The question involved in the dispute is being studied by the interdepartmental committee, which consists of Secretaries Adams and Lamont, Postmaster General Brown and Chairman O'Connor, of the shipping board.

Under the Jones-White shipping act mail contracts are to be awarded to the lowest bidder, but Randall and Burton told the president that under their interpretation of other laws relating to the merchant marine, preference for mail contracts was to be given concerns which had purchased their ships from the government.

ECKENER, LITCHFIELD NOT TO VISIT ATLANTA

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, and P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Rubber Company, will be unable to visit Atlanta for an inspection of Candler field as the prospective western terminus of trans-oceanic dirigible routes, according to a telegram received Wednesday by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale from the famous dirigible commander.

"Previous and urgent engagements here and in New York prevent me from accepting the invitation to visit Atlanta," wired Dr. Eckener, who is in Akron, Ohio. Dr. Eckener expressed regret that he would be unable to visit Atlanta.

Telegrams signed by Mayor Ragsdale, Governor Hardman, Henderson Hallman, governor of the National Aeronautic Association for Georgia, and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Atlanta Chapter of the N. A. A., the Atlanta Foreign Trade Club and the Southern States Foreign Trade Council were sent Tuesday afternoon to Dr. Eckener and Mr. Litchfield.

They asked Dr. Eckener and Mr. Litchfield to make an inspection of Atlanta's advantages as to climate, location and as the southern air center with a view of making a bid for establishment of the Zeppelin base here.

Appeal for good wishes and active co-operation of Atlanta churches in the campaign for public support of human helpfulness supported through the Community Chest has been made by Roy LeCraw, general chairman of the campaign, in letters directed to all pastors in and around Atlanta.

They described the system of Chest operation, with its efficiency of expert service and economical administration and gave assurance that Atlanta's charity dollar will go farther under its direction than otherwise.

Mr. LeCraw also has directed a letter to executives of the 39 agencies of the Chest, soliciting their active help in the campaign.

CHAMBER BOARD ASK FARM SURVEY BY U. S. SECRETARY

A resolution requesting Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, to make a complete survey of the agriculture situation in the southeastern states, has been passed by the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. It was announced Wednesday by S. Barker, executive secretary of the organization.

The resolution sets forth that there is a distinct need for an unbiased comprehensive survey by counties in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi and that such a move would be of great profit.

Efforts are being made to enlist the aid of other chambers of commerce throughout the south and the response so far has been most gratifying. Mr. Barker stated, Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George have both promised their full co-operation in the matter, he said.

COUNTY BODY VOTES TO PAY DAMAGES TO INJURED YOUTH

The board of Fulton county commissioners Wednesday voted to compensate 14-year-old Harry H. Gordon for injuries he sustained more than a year ago when, while riding a bicycle, he was struck by a county truck at Marietta street and North avenue.

The boy's father, Harry H. Gordon, appeared before the commission Wednesday with affidavits from the county's and private physicians, all of which said the boy probably was injured permanently.

The board instructed County Attorney Charles B. Shelton to meet with Mr. Gordon and arrange a settlement which will come up for approval by the board at its October meeting.

Sales this year have reached $4,450,400.28 so far, as against $3,941,780.13 for the same period of 1928, Mr. Carswell said. The total for this year through August included $3,607,217.26 for passenger automobiles and $752,231.77 for trucks, in addition to licenses issued to dealers and chauffeurs. Lack of Enthusiasm Marks Introduction of Tariff Bill in Senate Session

Lack of Strong Convictions Curbs Spirit Usual to Launching of Republican Tariff.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

Washington, September 4.—(Special)—The outstanding aspect of the introduction of the tariff bill into the senate was lack of enthusiasm for it. There was marked contrast with previous occasions when launching of a republican tariff was regarded by senators belonging to that party as an exalted ceremony, accompanied by spirited oratory. The chief reason for the present lack of enthusiasm is absence of strong conviction about many of the increases in the industrial portion of the bill.

This lack of faith exists among republicans of the most orthodox sort. There are many industrial increases which regular republicans hope will be defeated. In the coming votes on the schedule, these republicans hope increases will be beaten by democratic votes. If there are not enough democratic votes, regular republicans will supply the deficiency.

The attitude of some republican members of high and regular rank is illustrated by what went on in the senate committee. The rates in the bill were written by the republican members of the committee. There are 11 of them. No one of them belongs to the western group of industrialists. All 11 are strictly orthodox republicans with the one partial exception of Coughlin of Michigan.

This group used a method of balloting to determine what tariff rate should be written for each commodity. Among all the proposed rates, the first one was voted on. If it is rejected, a majority of the 11, it is dropped. If the highest rate failed to get a majority, the next highest was voted on, and so on until a majority was obtained for some rate.

Arrived at Highest Rate. This method of balloting arrived at the highest rates for which even the most ardent republicans could be obtained. As a result the bill as it enters the senate is, so to speak, the highest common denominator of the opinion of the committee members. It is certain that the bill as it enters the senate is higher than it will ever be again. Practically every change made in the senate as a whole will be a change downward.

To this last generalization there are some exceptions, but the exceptions have to do with another aspect of the situation. In the bill, certain industrial commodities are put on the free list or are given low rates, as to which democrats want high rates. If these rates are changed upward, it will be because individual democrats have offered to support the bill, and republicans in accepting the offer have undertaken to raise the rates in which the democrats are interested. With such possible exceptions, the bill changes made on the senate floor are likely to be changed downward.

In the method of balloting used by the 11 republicans who fixed the rates, there was a minority opposed to rate after rate. Sometimes this minority was as large as five members out of 11. In some cases the minority had strong feelings that the rates should have been lower. In consequence, when the rates are reviewed in the senate as a whole, some perfect orthodox republicans, members of the high-priestly finance committee, will vote for lower rates.

Illustration Given. The situation can be illustrated by one commodity. Of the entire American cement industry, more than 90 per cent is immune from foreign competition. Less than one-half of one per cent meets foreign competition. This fraction consists of a few plants located on the Atlantic seaboard where European cement, chiefly Belgian, can come in with low tariff rates. To protect this fraction of the American industry, a tariff has been put on cement.

The only republican senators interested in having this tariff on cement are a mere half dozen from North Atlantic states. The great bulk of the republican senators do not want a cement tariff for their own states. Many of them think such a tariff ought not to be, and probably will express that conviction by their votes. In past tariff revision years, the republicans were an all-for-one and one-for-all fraternity which resulted in all voting for what one wanted. That spirit does not attend the present revision.

What has been said about cement applies also to brick. For reasons similar or different, many rates in the bill have only such friends as are locally interested. There is, of course, another class of industrial rates as to which the need for more protection is universal, and is generally admitted. It is on these, and probably on these alone, that the republicans will unite.

All that is said in this dispatch applies to industrial rates only. As to agricultural increases, it is generally agreed that these stand in a class apart and that they deserve general support.

The whole tariff situation is gravitating toward the kind of revision desired by President Hoover in his opening message to congress. He called for a general and generous revision of agricultural rates. Other than that, he said the industrial revision should be limited to a few industries in which there is proved unemployment due to insufficient tariff protection.

The Marines Who Wouldn't Fight! Told by "Hard-Boiled" Butler

("Don't Fire a Shot.")

Ready for action. Marine corps riot squad organized by General Butler in Tientsin to meet any emergency arising out of the civil war to endanger Americans.

This is the fifth of eight articles in which Major-General Smedley Darlington Butler is telling the diverting story of the bloodless conquest of China by the United States marines he took out there in 1927 to protect American lives in the country's raging civil war.

BY SMEDLEY DARLINGTON BUTLER.

Major General, U. S. M. C.

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American)

Our mission in Shanghai and Central China was soon ended, for the Nationalist army was entrenched there and little possibility appeared of an outbreak in the Yangtze valley.

In northern China, however, we feared trouble might develop when the Nationalists took over the Tientsin-Peking area.

A trip to New York and Chicago to discuss with financial interests plans for discounting state highway warrants under the Barrett act of the recent legislature is planned for the near future by Colonel Tate.

The governor is given authority to discount highway warrants anticipating 50 per cent of the revenues for the year in order to provide immediate funds to retire obligations and resume highway construction. Representative Harrell of Stephens county, will arrive in Atlanta in a few days to consult with the highway officials on methods of properly carrying out provisions of the act.

In the method of balloting used by the 11 republicans who fixed the rates, there was a minority opposed to rate after rate. Sometimes this minority was as large as five members out of 11. In some cases the minority had strong feelings that the rates should have been lower. In consequence, when the rates are reviewed in the senate as a whole, some perfect orthodox republicans, members of the high-priestly finance committee, will vote for lower rates.

Illustration Given. The situation can be illustrated by one commodity. Of the entire American cement industry, more than 90 per cent is immune from foreign competition. Less than one-half of one per cent meets foreign competition. This fraction consists of a few plants located on the Atlantic seaboard where European cement, chiefly Belgian, can come in with low tariff rates. To protect this fraction of the American industry, a tariff has been put on cement.

The only republican senators interested in having this tariff on cement are a mere half dozen from North Atlantic states. The great bulk of the republican senators do not want a cement tariff for their own states. Many of them think such a tariff ought not to be, and probably will express that conviction by their votes. In past tariff revision years, the republicans were an all-for-one and one-for-all fraternity which resulted in all voting for what one wanted. That spirit does not attend the present revision.

What has been said about cement applies also to brick. For reasons similar or different, many rates in the bill have only such friends as are locally interested. There is, of course, another class of industrial rates as to which the need for more protection is universal, and is generally admitted. It is on these, and probably on these alone, that the republicans will unite.

All that is said in this dispatch applies to industrial rates only. As to agricultural increases, it is generally agreed that these stand in a class apart and that they deserve general support.

The whole tariff situation is gravitating toward the kind of revision desired by President Hoover in his opening message to congress. He called for a general and generous revision of agricultural rates. Other than that, he said the industrial revision should be limited to a few industries in which there is proved unemployment due to insufficient tariff protection.

SCHOOL APPROPRIATION IS HELD UP BY COUNTY

Failure To Fix Tax Rate Delays Action on Request for $240,000 Annually.

Due to failure to fix the county tax rate and its attendant estimated income for next year, the board of Fulton county commissioners Wednesday postponed action on a request of the county board of education for extra appropriations totalling $240,000 a year for construction purposes, including the erection of a new high school at Buckhead.

The tax rate will be fixed at the next meeting of the commissioners in October or at a special meeting should data for its fixing be arranged before the regular meeting date, Chairman Paul S. Etheridge said.

The needs of the county board of education were laid before the commissioners Wednesday by a delegation of citizens, representatives of the school board and Superintendent Jere A. Wells.

Chairman Etheridge assured the school proponents that the board would make its allocation of funds long enough before the first of the year to assure the school board full opportunity to allocate any increase in revenue they may obtain for building purposes.

DROWNING OF BANK HEAD ACCIDENTAL, JURY DECIDES

Columbiana, Ala., September 4.—(AP)—Coinciding with the convening of a Shelby county grand jury to investigate the shooting to death from ambush of S. H. Henderson, overseer on the plantation of the late Dr. A. W. Bell, president of the defunct Woodman Savings Bank in Birmingham last November, a coroner's verdict of death by accidental drowning was rendered in connection with the drowning of the physician here today.

Dr. Bell drowned in the Coosa river at Vincent, Ala., July 6, less than three hours after the bank of which he was head failed. He went to his country place and was swimming in the river when apparently he was seized with cramps and drowned.

These three commutations appeals will occupy the entire emergency session today, it was said at the governor's office. Merritt is under sentence to die Friday for an attack upon an Atlanta woman, Morrow and Simpson were jointly convicted of the murder of G. A. Perry, Kingsland, Ga., bank cashier.

SARGON IS HIGHLY ENDORSED BY HON. WM. M. HAIRSTON

Well-Known Atlanta Declares Effects of New Medicine in His Case Were Wonderful.

Nearly everybody in Atlanta is either personally acquainted with or has heard of Hon. William M. Hairston, political writer and orator. Mr. Hairston is a member of DuPont Lodge No. 16, of Washington, D. C., where he resided for six years.

Accordingly, plans were quietly prepared for an attempt at DuPont Lodge No. 16, of Washington, D. C., where he resided for six years.

At that time the administration had been in power for some time. The relief column such as that of the Boser days 1900 should be necessary. Minister MacMurray was ordered to evacuate just at the proper time, not too soon and not too late. The responsibility was his alone.

Ready for Dash to Rescue. According to plans were quietly prepared for an attempt at DuPont Lodge No. 16, of Washington, D. C., where he resided for six years.

We had studied carefully the ill-fated relief expedition of 1900, which, trusting to railroads, never reached its destination but had to be rescued by another column after more than 400 miles of marching. We had learned our lesson, and then laid our own plans.

As no dependence could be placed on the railroads and as there is a wagon road between Tientsin and Peking which is passable for motor vehicles about 95 per cent of the time, a plan was prepared to send the rescue column by motor vehicle.

In brief the plan was to send 2,000 marines in Peking, seize the Temple of Heaven, the place sacred to the good of defense in the capital, collect within it all Americans in the city, and then evacuate them to Tientsin and finally to the coast and aboard our American men-of-war—by means of our airplanes.

Under our plans, which included many unusual features to prevent delay and at the same time avoid skirmishes with hostile troops, we believed we could reach Peking in 12 hours after a call for help, and accomplish the withdrawal of the Americans in three days.

The Temple of Heaven, before the revolution that changed China from a monarchy to a republic, for centuries and dynasties was the citadel of religion in China. There the emperors of China worshipped. There the emperors of China worshipped. Its 727 acres are protected and decorated by terraces within. Unused since the revolution, the place was overgrown with weeds and flowers, and trees abounded.

A Point Won by Diplomacy. As our plans called for the landing and taking-off of planes within the comparatively small inclosure, somehow we had to arrange for the clearing of the place. By commenting upon the being of the temple to high government officers we finally persuaded them that it would be a splendid achievement if the place were cleaned up and put into first-class shape. The Chinese agreed to do this, and, unknowningly provided a splendid landing field in our "emergency fortress."

In Tientsin we had enough motorized transportation to carry 1,000 officers and men. We obtained an option on every other available vehicle in the city. These options provided that at a word of the day or night, at any place, regardless of circumstances, we might seize the vehicles when an emergency arose.

Two marines were assigned to each of the several hundred trucks thus acquired, and it was their duty to know the whereabouts of their vehicle at all times, and to be ready to take it over and drive it to its designated place.

As most of these were simply chassis, we designed and built a special type of wooden body, all uniform, which could be adjusted to the chassis in 10 minutes. These special bodies were mounted on saw horses in the various billets; they were stocked with equipment and stores, including rations for five days, and each man had a place assigned on this particular truck. At that time was necessary when the truck reached the billet was for the men to push the body onto the chassis, tighten a few bolts, jump in and leave.

Refuge Is Organized. As it was impossible to send our troops—and we had nearly 4,000 officers and men in Tientsin—all over the vast area of northern China, we organized this refuge and sent word to all Americans to come in "now or

ENRICHING OF SOIL BY COVER CROPS URGED BY BROWN

Fulton county farm soil should be built up with cover crops at this time of the year, when it is not producing other crops, according to letters sent to farmers of this county Wednesday by Harry L. Brown, county demonstration agent.

Experience from demonstrations conducted in this and nearby counties leads to the conclusion that the Austrian winter pea is the more desirable of these two crops for this purpose, Mr. Brown said. Growing of hairy vetch or Austrian winter peas, to be turned under in the spring, will very quickly double the yield of corn or other crops that follow them, he said.

Either vetch or the winter peas should be seeded in September or early October and they can be seeded in plow and covered lightly with a plow and large scrape, this operation following closely behind picking in order not to knock out any cotton, Mr. Brown advised the farmers.

To Preach Sunday At Central Church

Dr. Frank C. Brown, of Charleston, W. Va., who has been called to the pastorate of the Central Presbyterian church, will arrive in Atlanta Saturday morning and will preach two sermons at the Central church Sunday.

Dr. Brown has not yet accepted the call to the Central Presbyterian church pastorate, but will make known his decision in a short time, it was said. The vacancy in the pulpit was caused by the resignation of Dr. W. E. Davis.

The congregation of the Bream Memorial Presbyterian church of Charleston, Dr. Brown's present charge, numbers more than 1,800 members and the church has five mission outposts. Dr. Brown was given the call to the local church by unanimous and enthusiastic action of the congregation of the Central church last Sunday morning.

NAME OF DEMOCRAT TO APPEAR ON BALLOT

Possible Omission Called "Absolutely Absurd," by Chairman W. S. Howard.

Possibility that the name of the democratic congressional nominee would be omitted from the ballot in the election of October 2 was characterized as "absolutely absurd" by William Schley Howard, chairman of the fifth district democratic executive committee, when questioned Wednesday afternoon relative to a legal technicality in the call of the election, which requires registration with the secretary of state 30 days prior to regular elections.

A storm of protest was raised when Hooper Alexander, independent candidate, called at the office of Secretary George Carwell to inquire if anyone else beside himself had given such notice, and there was much speculation about the question.

Mr. Howard declared that the law was absolutely clear and that it referred only to "regular elections."

"These words are used all the way through the act," he stated, "and there is even a proviso contained with reference to special called elections."

The whole thing is merely a tempest in a tea pot and an effort on the part of Mr. Alexander to get cheap publicity. There is no possible chance that the ordinance of the counties in the fifth district will omit the name of the candidate nominated in the primary September 11."

DAY IN FINANCE

Increasing Fears of Credit Crises Forces Bullish Traders To Halt Activities; Reaction Believed Essential To Stabilize Market.

New York, September 4.—Stocks opened irregular and uncertain and until the second hour when a break of from 2 to 3 points occurred. This decline was followed by a recovery starting around noon under the leadership of Radio and General Motors. In the last hour the market was again mixed, some stocks strong, others soft to weak.

There was good selling of stocks yesterday in spots and again today. Loans of many leading stock exchange houses are at the top or near the top for all time. The point has now been reached in the brokers' loans situation where one house is calling up another to exchange information. Long experience leads to the conclusion that when this state of nervousness exists a break in stock prices is not far ahead. Some pegs can always be found to get customers out of stock market to get loans down. Afterwards, if necessary, the federal reserve can be blamed for the breaks in stock prices.

While the best information received from London today indicates no change in the Bank of England's discount rate tomorrow, Wall Street is nervous of the chances of an early advance. Still another item of news causing nervousness in the stock market is the further price cutting in gasoline. Warner Quinlan, one of the big service station companies in this district, has just cut the price of gasoline 2 cents a gallon following a cut of three cents by Standard Oil of New York.

Price Unchanged.
The average price of crude oil at 10 producing fields remains unchanged the past week at $1.67 a barrel. This price compares with $1.58 a year ago when there was trouble over production of crude oil. Gasoline at refineries is now 8.18 cents a gallon against 8.44 cents a week ago. The service station price for 10 leading cities is now 10.42 cents a gallon against 10.75 a week ago.

Domestic crude oil production from January 1 to September 3 is estimated at 931,000,000 barrels, against 578,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1928, when there was over-production.

Realizing the amount of capital now tied up in this country in over-production of crude and refined oil, something between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000, holders of long oil shares today did considerable reading between the lines of the foregoing. Ford production of model A cars for August was 205,000, a new high for the company for this month, and only slightly below the high for any month made for the old model T cars in October of 1928. Total production of model A cars since the new model was put on the market reached 2,235,000 on September 1. This included 1,470,000 for the first eight months of this year. For the old model T, 1923 was the year of high record production, when over 2,000,000 were produced. For the first eight months of 1923 production was 1,470,000.

Show Falling Off.
Chevrolet, Hupp and Nash show a falling off in production in August. Packard, Franklin and Buick show gains. Despite the mixed trend of automobile production, automobile shares are being widely tipped for "a ride" under the leadership of General Motors.

On August 21 General Motors and denly shot up from 70 to 74 5/8. The price for many days had been fluctuating between 69 and 71. After touching 74 5/8 on August 21 there was a further advance to 75 1/4 on August 23. Those responsible for the advance in General Motors learned that there was a lot of stock for sale on advancing prices and the price of General Motors then dropped from 75 1/4 to 74 1/2.

This week opened with General Motors again showing an inclination to advance. Today the price got above the August high. It remains to be seen whether stock will be met to any great extent on any further advance in price.

There is a new pool in Radio. It is being run by large western traders. There is still a large outstanding short interest in Radio.

Some Wall Street bankers would not be surprised to see the Bank of England rediscount rate raised at tomorrow's weekly meeting. The last change was the advance from 5 to 6 per cent made last February to check the outflow of gold. Since then through fear of disturbing general trade the Bank of England has hesitated to further advance the rediscount rate which is now at the highest level since the worst of the war and after war inflation period and then it was only slightly higher than now.

Wall Street bankers realize, however, that the Bank of England cannot continue to ignore the steady outflow of gold. During August the Bank of England lost $35,000,000 gold while Reichsbank of Germany gained $8,000,000, the Bank of France $64,000,000 and the federal reserve system here $67,000,000.

Losses Gold Funds.
The Bank of England has lost $101,000,000 gold compared with a year ago with its gold reserve down to 157,000,000 pounds against the 1928 estimate of 150,000,000 pounds. A further advance in the Bank of England's discount rate would slow down the movement of European funds to this market and probably would cause some withdrawal of foreign funds from here. In both cases the immediate effects of these movements on our own money market would not be pronounced. Sooner or later, however, the trend of money toward a higher level throughout the world will be felt in our stock market.

Informed Wall Street people point out that the advance from 5 cents in the price of copper was caused by foreign buyers holding off in expectation of lower prices from over-production to find that the copper market had again become stabilized with the available supply of refined metal limited. There is plenty of raw metal and there would be much more but for world-wide limited smelter capacity. When copper recently touched 24 cents one of the two large smelters in this country was running 110 per cent of rated capacity. Anything over 18 cents for copper metal will again stimulate smelting and will again bring the element of speculation into the copper market. A new smelter is being built in Texas and one in Canada to take care of Canadian production of raw metal. Another smelter is being built in Belgium. The building of smelters is slow and costly work. Limited smelter capacity is now the fundamental in the copper industry but the outlook is for increased smelter capacity.

Sugar.

New York, September 4.—Although not very active, a much firmer undertone developed in the raw sugar market and prices advanced 1 1/2c to the basis of 3.50 for spots, duty paid. At this level about 22,500 bags of Porto Rican were sold for October arrival to a local refiner, and there was further inquiry, but offerings were light and only a higher price. Bagging from Cuba said that the export corporation there had declined a bid of 1.97 to a h. Cuba, equal to about 3.80 delivered here and that they would not consider bids of less than 2.10 f. o. b. Cuba, which is equal to about 4.02 delivered here.

Arnold-Van Orden Wedding Rites Solemnized at Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Arnold, to Seymour L. Van Orden, of Syracuse, N. Y., was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church, Rev. L. F. Christie, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends.

The altar which was banked with luxuriant palms and ferns formed a picturesque background for baskets of lilies interspersed with tall cathedral candelabra holding slender white burning tapers which cast a soft glow over the lovely scene. Lights throughout the church were ornamented with greenery interspersed with Easter lilies. Pews reserved for members of the two families were designated by streamers of white satin ribbon terminating in clusters of lilies.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered. Mrs. Paul McDowell, soprano, accompanied at the organ by Miss Kathleen Doughty, sang "At Dawning," "Because," and "Chorus of the Indian Love Song." Miss Dorothy rendered "Bacchante," from "The Tales of Hoffman," and "Sweet Mysteries of Life." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's bridal chorus as the recessional.

The Bridal Party.
The ushers, who entered in pairs, were W. G. Chamberlain, of Richmond, Va.; John D. Hatchett, W. J. Hogan and Sam A. Porter. The bride's attendants, Miss Dorothy Craig, niece of the bride-elect, who acted as junior bridesmaid; Miss Margaret Van Orden, sister of the groom, who was the bridesmaid; Mrs. Brady Harper, matron of honor, and Miss Margaret Mayes, maid of honor, entered next alternating with the groomsmen. Brady Harper, Frank E. Hogan and J. Frank Arnold, all of whom entered alone.

The bride's attendants wore gowns of different shades of chiffon, featuring effective waist cut "V" neck front and back and graceful full skirts graduated from knee length in the front to ankle length in the back, being joined to a deep yolk at the waist line. A graceful bow was introduced at the side. A feature of the waist was the streamers which fell from the shoulder to the point of the "V" in the back, where they formed graceful streamers. They wore slippers to match their gowns. Their magnificent sheafers were of Ophelia roses tied with satin ribbon in shades to correspond with their costumes. Miss Craig wore yellow;

Miss Van Orden powder blue; Mrs. Harper was gowned in Nile green, and Miss Mayes in pale pink.

The dainty little flower girls, little Misses Mary Elizabeth Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stone, and Betty Clyde Crist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Crist, were dressed alike in frocks of flesh chiffon. The graceful skirts which fell from the low neck lines terminated in tiers of dainty ruffles. Their shoulders were adorned with bouquets of rosebuds showered with tiny streamers of ribbon. White slippers and pink socks completed the costumes. They carried baskets of rosebuds, from which they scattered petals in the path of the bride.

The little ring-bearer, George Camp, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Camp, who wore an effective little white suit, carried the ring on a white satin pillow beaded in pearls and showered with orange blossoms and streamers of white satin ribbon.

The Lovely Bride.
The bride, who entered with her father, G. A. Arnold, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Lieutenant G. A. Diller, of Fort Benning, Columbus. The bride's gown of ivory satin was a princess model introducing a skirt of real lace which was graduated from knee length in front to ankle length in the back. The skirt, which introduced satin in the back, formed the graceful train. Features of the lovely model were the "V" shaped neck and long, tight sleeves which fell gracefully over the wrists of the bride. Her misty silk net veil, which was caught to her hair in cap effect beneath a bandeau of orange blossoms across the back of the head, terminated at each side in clusters of orange blossoms. Her corsage was a magnificent bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies showered with valley lilies and streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. G. A. Arnold, mother of the bride, wore a straight line model of black satin offset with a shoulder spray of Ophelia roses.

Mrs. J. L. Craig, sister of the bride, was gowned in black georgette effectively trimmed in fringe. A shoulder bouquet of Ophelia roses adorned her shoulder.

Mrs. S. A. Porter, sister of the bride, wore a straight line model of white georgette offset with a shoulder spray of rosebuds.

Before the ceremony a program was rendered by Mrs. J. R. Feltes at the organ and Mrs. E. V. Grayson, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "Until." During the ceremony "Hearts and Flowers" was played, repeating the musical program used at the wedding of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll. The four groomsmen, D. A. Miss Carroll Weds W. W. Carter at Druid Hills Baptist Church Ceremony

A wedding of unusual beauty and in which widespread interest centered was that of Miss Sarah Clairee Carroll and William Young Carter, which was solemnized in Druid Hills Baptist church last evening at 8:30 o'clock. The Rev. M. A. Cooper, pastor of the church, performed the rite ceremony which was witnessed by relatives and friends.

Church Decorations.
The church was artistically decorated with southern smilax palms, ferns and white lilies, with cathedral candelabra. White and green being the color scheme. Before the ceremony a program was rendered by Mrs. J. R. Feltes at the organ and Mrs. E. V. Grayson, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "Until." During the ceremony "Hearts and Flowers" was played, repeating the musical program used at the wedding of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll. The four groomsmen, D. A. Pirkle, Jr., and T. J. Hart, of Atlanta; Orville Owens and Marvin McEachern, of Birmingham, Ala., entered in couples, taking their places to east side of the altar. The bridesmaids were Mrs. T. J. Hart, wearing yellow satin-back moire and carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses, budied with shower to match the costume; Miss Orville Self, in a similar costume of green; Miss Julia Gardner, wearing blue, and Miss Elizabeth Curless in pink. Mrs. T. E. Harden, of Commerce, matron of honor, wearing orchid satin-back moire and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses, budied with shower of pink roses, and gold ribbon. Master Jimmie Smith, cousin of the bride, carried the ring in a lily, and preceded the bride. Little Billy Frances Hart, niece of the groom, scattered rose petals from a basket of pink roses.

Lovely Bride.
As the notes of the Lohengrin bridal chorus sounded, the bride entered the church with her father, William Walter Carroll, and was radiantly lovely in an exquisite gown of white satin, and a veil of tulle and real lace, fastened to her hair in cap effect, and finished with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies, showered with silver and white ribbons. A touch of sentiment added to the veil was the fact that it was worn by the matron of honor at whose wedding the bride was an attendant. The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, A. C. Carter, his brother.

Handsome Gowns.
Mrs. W. W. Carroll, the bride's mother, was gowned in jade green chiffon, and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses completed her costume. Mrs. Ida Carter, mother of the groom, was gowned in cobalt blue georgette crepe, and she wore a shoulder bouquet of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll entertained at a reception at their home in West End after the ceremony. The house was effectively decorated in flowers, carrying out the color scheme of green and white. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, and a three-tiered cake, richly embossed in roses, surmounted by a miniature bride, adorned the center. Silver candelsticks, holding white tapers, tied with white tulle and ribbon, Mrs. B. B. Jordan, of Columbus, aunt of the bride, kept the bride's book, and Mrs. A. O. Self was in charge of the cake.

Wedding Journey.
Mr. and Mrs. Carter left on their honeymoon by motor, and upon their return to Atlanta, October 1, will reside at 608 Gordon place. Mrs. Carter traveled in a silver gray georgette ensemble, her close-fitting felt hat, shoes and handbag being of blue.

HEAT, WATER SHORTAGE THREATEN FORESTS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Water shortages and forest fire hazards became more acute Wednesday as the unseasonal heat which has gripped most of the United States and part of Canada, continued in its fourth day.

Temperatures which had remained in the 90s along the Atlantic seaboard and the middle west for the three days, advanced in most of the record-breaking marks in most of the record-infested sections. Relief in some localities from rain or high pressure areas was short-lived.

The drought which accompanied the heat wave was keenly felt by forest rangers from Michigan across into New England and south into Pennsylvania and Maryland. Hundreds of forest fires were smoldering in densely wooded areas that needed only a "stiff breeze" to fan them beyond control. Rain was a crying need.

Situation Critical.
The forest fire situation in Michigan was reported as critical and while rain was looked for to aid fighters in the upper peninsula, constant back-firing was being resorted to in the lower peninsula.

Not for many years had there been so many fires in Pennsylvania forests and they were being fought with extreme difficulty because of the dry condition of the woods.

Flames were licking at the parched mountainsides in Massachusetts around North Adams, and Williams-town and hundreds of firefighters and volunteers were battling to stem the blaze. Despite their efforts the fires at their way into Vermont, where several farm houses were destroyed.

The fires in western Massachusetts communities found forest patrols handicapped by an unprecedented water shortage. Cisterns had long been pumped dry and trucks were being used to haul water to the firefront.

No Rain in Months.
No rain of consequence has fallen in these sections in months and there is an approaching danger of some rivers dropping so low as to be inadequate to furnish waterpower.

New York officials said the state faces the most serious general fire hazard in 20 years and all forest lands may be closed to the public until heavy rains relieve the situation almost immediately.

Ontario farmers are facing heavy crop losses because of the driest spell in years. This section experienced the hottest weather of the season Tuesday.

Springfield, Mass., reported an unofficial temperature of 99 degrees Wednesday and schools, which opened Tuesday, were closed. Some parts of New England found relief from the heat in a high pressure area which moved down from Canada.

The mercury climbed to a near record at 94 in New York city in the early afternoon. The suffering was not so intense as in other hot spells.

FOREST FIRE CRACKLES NEAR CHICAGO.

Chicago, September 4.—(AP)—Forest fires snapped and crackled today at the very door of one of the world's largest cities.

An area of more than a mile and a half in the Cook county forest preserve, near 107th street and Archer avenue, was swept by fire which was brought under control early today after burning since Monday night.

The task proved too much and flames soon were shooting among the forest preserve timber. All available forest-fighters were ordered out. Ditches were dug and sand and wet blankets were used before the fire was brought under control.

Labor Day picnickers were blamed for the fire.

BEAUTY FASHIONS

A GOOD MODEL FOR A SCHOOL DRESS.

6613. Printed crepe is here combined with plain crepe. Wool mixtures, jersey, flannel and pongee are also suggested. The front and back are arranged in plait folds to form a wide panel over the center, below the yoke, which is shaped in a deep point over the center of the front. A comfortable bishop sleeve, and a neat collar, complete this style. The fullness of the dress is held by a belt.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. To make the dress for a 12-year size will require 2 5/8 yards of 35-inch material. For collar, belt and band cuffs of contrasting material 3/8-yard is required cut crosswise. To finish collar and belt with bias binding requires 3 yards 1 1/2-inch wide.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1929-1930 book of fashions.

GIRL 5, TELEGRAPH, UPSET FAMILY WHEN COMBINED

Memphis, Tenn., September 4.—(AP)—Rose Lucille Farrell, 5, and energetic, didn't understand this telegram business and her lack of knowledge caused her mother prostration, upset her family and the neighborhood.

Ed Farrell, 14, her brother, had been in Clarksville, Ark., for eight weeks and wired his father, a city fireman, for money to come home.

Rose saw the telegram and believed it a death message. Accordingly she visited several neighbors' homes with the terse announcement that "Ed is dead in Arkansas."

Almost an hour later Rose was caught delivering her message to another neighbor, and the facts were learned.

M'C O Y ELIGIBLE FOR PROMOTION TO MAJOR-GENERAL

Washington, September 4.—(AP)—Brigadier General Ralph H. McCoy, who requested delay in promotion, so that Brigadier General Ralph H. Van Deman could become a major general, today became eligible for promotion to the rank of major general with the retirement because of age of Van Deman.

About two months ago President Hoover requested Secretary Good to give consideration to McCoy in recognition for his services to fill the vacancy created by the death of Major General Harry A. Smith. General McCoy learned of the president's request and asked him to defer his own promotion so that General Van Deman would be promoted.

General McCoy directed elections in Nicaragua. He is at present chairman of the Paraguay-Bolivian commission of conciliation and inquiry. President Hoover is expected to send his nomination to the senate soon.

CHARGES FLORIDA COUNTY'S FUNDS WERE MISHANDLED

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., September 4.—(AP)—The terms "irregularities," "misappropriations," and "unauthorized" as used in the original auditor's report of the condition of the books of the Broward county commission of April 6, 1929, were intended to mean that these transactions were not handled exactly in accordance with law and did not constitute actual shortages. It was stated in the conclusion of the supplementary report to the re-audit of July 13 which became a matter of public record today.

The audit and re-audit were made by State Auditors E. G. Hausel and J. B. Wetherington, who stated that "comments in the supplemental report of July 6, 1929, are considered by us as instructive and made in order that the commissioners may have a better understanding and knowledge of the statutes governing their duties as public officials of the county."

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

FLIP CHANGES HIS MIND.
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

A life of trouble he will find Who is too set to change his mind.—Old Mother Nature.

There never was a more disgusted small dog than Flip. He was hot and tired, and now to be told that he, had done all that digging for nothing was almost too much.

"Of course," explained Bowser, "while you were digging open the front door and going in that way, the fellow who lived down below simply came out this back door and trotted off. You can keep on digging if you want to, but you won't find anybody at home down there. So you may as well quit now."

Flip knew that Bowser was right. He sighed. "If I could once catch that fellow I'd shake him to pieces," said he.

"You don't really mean that," said Bowser.

"I do so!" retorted Flip. "I mean every word of it. I wonder where he has gone to. And who he is anyway."

"Here's a little path through the grass," said Bowser.

Flip put his nose down in the little path and sniffed. Yes, there was that same scent that he had found in that hole where he had been digging. Flip became interested right away. He began to walk along that little path with his nose to the ground. Presently his stub tail began to wag. Then he began to trot along that little path. Bowser followed.

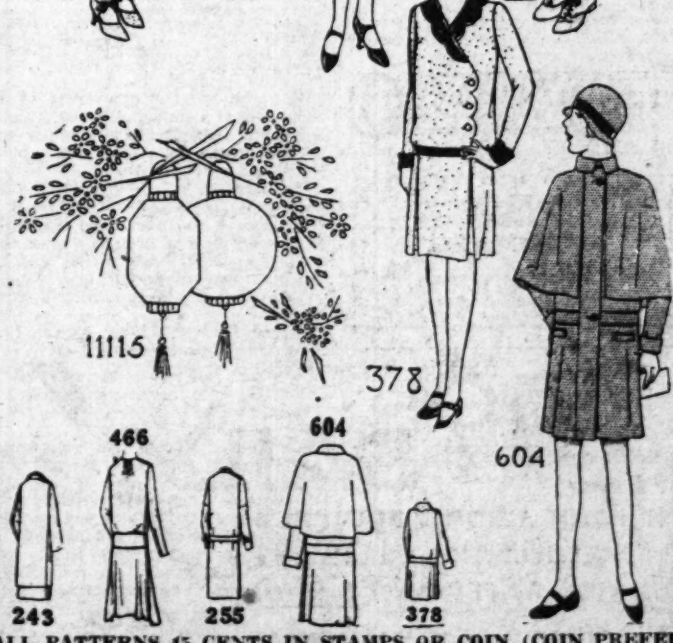

"If we hurry perhaps we can catch up with him," barked Flip.

"You go ahead; I'll take my time," replied Bowser. "You'll probably find that the fellow has gone into another hole."

"If he has I'll find out whether or not there is a back door," replied Flip. Bowser grinned, but said nothing. He knew that Flip had learned another lesson. He knew that Flip would never remember and never would be fooled again that way. There is no teacher like experience, and Flip had now had experience. Flip was running. Every few steps he put his nose to the ground. The little path wound in the direction of an old stone wall—the old stone wall that divided the Old Orchard from the Green Meadows.

The next story: "Flip and Johnny Respect Each Other."

World Going To Devil, Shaw Says in Lecture

London, September 4.—(United News)—Civilization is "hurrying headlong to the devil despite all attempts of optimists and pacifists to keep up our spirits," according to a lecture prepared by George Bernard Shaw which is called "Random Speculations" and will be delivered shortly.

The Fabian Society issued an advance abstract of the speech, which speculates on purely rationalistic and materialistic problems.

After remarking on the fate of civilization Shaw adds:

"Our forecasts should be entirely utopian. The notion that to foresee an event is to guard against it, is not borne out by facts. If the World War had not been foreseen and prepared for, it might possibly not have occurred."

"Therefore it is very questionable whether political foresight should be encouraged."

"All who foresee the next great war should be executed. A rigorous press law should suppress every newspaper fronting war as morally more tolerable than assassination."

At the coroner's inquest into Roko-muto's death one of the defense contentions was that the victim was at fault because he turned into the path of Mrs. Pantages' car without making a signal.

The state claims Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated at the time of the collision, and that before driving her car into Roko-muto's she had zigzagged down the street, hitting three other machines.

Gilbert and his associates, Joseph Ford and Max Steuer, noted New York criminal lawyers, admitted that they would risk considerably upon the technical contention that Roko-muto could have avoided the crash.

Six women and six men testifies were in the jury box at the opening of court today.

MRS. PANTAGES' TRIAL JURY IS SELECTED

Los Angeles, September 4.—(AP)—Defense questions propounded in selection today of a superior court jury for the second degree murder trial of Mrs. Lois Pantages indicated that the actual circumstances of the automobile collision which resulted in the death of Joe Roko-muto, Japanese gardener, would enter largely into her defense.

From the opening of this second day of the trial, Defense Attorney W. I. Gilbert grilled prospective jurors on their attitude toward traffic rules and automobile accidents. "Do you believe," Gilbert demanded repeatedly, "that a person should make a signal with his hand before making a left-hand turn?"

This Matter of Sizes

There was a day—not so far distant—when the woman who wore a size 42 or 46 found it exceedingly difficult to buy a dress of good material and good lines. If it fit her figure it usually did not suit her in some other respect—being, in most cases, highly unbecoming.

There IS a day—today—when this same woman can find (at Allen's) a variety of well made, smart dresses in sizes 40, 42, 44, 46—made by manufacturers who specialize in larger sized dresses. The materials are the best—the lines are subtle, slenderizing, good. The dresses are created by experts who have studied the fashion problems of the woman who does not wear sizes 16 and 20!

Frank Speer, Former Tech Football Star, To Coach U. S. B.

GREAT TACKLE WILL INSTRUCT BLUEBIRD TEAM

All-American Star Plans To Resume Studies at Tech.

By Roy White.
Frank Speer, all-American tackle at Tech and former University School for Boys line-man, will help coach football at University it was learned Wednesday afternoon. Speer has another year of football at Georgia Tech but was ruled ineligible by the faculty for play this fall.

He is making every effort possible to be re-instated at Tech in order that he may complete his senior work and graduate next June, although he cannot be a member of the 1929 football eleven. He has petitioned the faculty and his petition will likely be considered and discussed at a faculty meeting within the next few days.

Speer stated last Wednesday afternoon that in the event he was re-instated he would gladly give his services to his former Alma Mater and help in any way possible. He cannot play at Tech this year and he is desirous of helping Tech football where he learned the fundamentals.

While every effort is being made on his part to get back in school, several of the well-known professional football teams of the country have made flattering offers for his services. He recently turned down two offers.

ATTRACTIVE OFFERS.
Portsmouth professional football officials, where "Father" Lumpkin is reported to have gone, have made several attractive offers to Speer. Only a few days ago Lumpkin is said to have talked at length to Speer over long distance telephone trying to persuade the Tech star to join Portsmouth and be a member of that pro organization.

He has steadily refused in the hope that he will get back in Tech in order to complete his college education. "Football is not my primary object at present, and I want to finish my college work," Speer said Wednesday.

"and if I can be of any service to University school, I will be glad of the opportunity."

Bill Fincher, famous line coach at Tech, has paid Speer several tributes and in one of his articles for The Constitution, he stated that Speer was one of the best tackles that ever played on the Tornado.

"Without a doubt Frank has, at least, established himself on a high pedestal in the eyes of football fans, and they are pulling for him to get into school, even though he is not eligible for football. A man who has turned down what Frank has is deserving of the respect of the entire football colony, and I am sure sports lovers will take off their hats to him," Fincher said.

OPTIMISM.
L. L. Boone, vice president and director of athletics at University School for Boys, was very optimistic over the chances of having Speer as a football coach at the University.

Mr. Boone stated that he certainly hoped that Speer would be re-instated, for it would mean that he could give his services at the institution where he played preparatory football.

While at University school Speer was one of the best liked students and was very popular with every student and member of the faculty. He was star in every sport and was picked for all-prep football honors for two years. He was one of the best linemen that the "Bluebirds" have ever had and should be a great help to the 1929 eleven.

Flake Laird, former Davidson star and last year coach at University, resigned recently to accept a position as freshman coach at Davidson. He will devote his new duties within the next few days.

Buffalo Wins Legion Opener

Louisville, Ky., September 4.—(AP) Heads-up baseball and taking advantage of every chance, the boys from Buffalo today defeated the New Orleans team, 6 to 4, at Parkway field here in the first game of the junior world series sponsored by the American Legion.

A disastrous seventh inning in which Beach allowed a base hit and issued three walks with the score tied at 3-3 cost New Orleans its chance to win the game. With the aid of four New Orleans errors and the charity of New Orleans pitchers, Buffalo made six hits good for six runs.

J. Smith, Buffalo catcher, was the day's batting star with three hits out of five times up. Clay, centerfielder from New Orleans, got a pair of doubles and Beach, New Orleans pitcher, added a losing game with a triple. The boys, all of them under 16 years old, played sparkling ball throughout.

Some 2,500 persons saw the game, including enthusiastic delegations from Buffalo and New Orleans. The teams will meet again tomorrow, with two out of three games to decide the series. The teams are survivors of state, district and regional tournaments in which it is estimated that 250,000 boys participated.

Only Dodos on Links Scored by Man, Wife

Paris, Ark., September 4.—(AP) The R. M. Thompsons keep their holes-in-one in the family and take their golfing seriously. There have been only two holes-in-one shot since a golf course was constructed here, Thompson shot one several months ago and now Mrs. Thompson is in his class. She sunk her tee shot on a 135-yard hole.

Bobby Jones' defeat in the first round at Pebble Beach was an auspicious occurrence. For year golf writers have been trying to tell the public that these first-round eighteen-hole matches that mark our system of play in the national amateur championship were deadly, dangerous and bristling with the possibility of an unknown golfer dumping a great player out of competition.

Yet Bobby Jones has been breezing through the fearful eighteen-hole tests year after year and the public had begun to smile weakly when golf writers harped on the danger of upsets in the early rounds.

So Bobby's defeat should convince folks in general that all that has been written about the menace of the short matches is true; that any golfer, however skillful, can be defeated over a limited round. And his defeat makes his past triumphs in winning four amateur championships in six starts shine brighter.

A RELIEF?
Now I do not profess to be able to read Bobby Jones' mind—certainly not at several thousand miles' range. However, I imagine that the young man is not losing sleep over his defeat by Johnny Goodman.

What a novelty it must be to Bobby to have the tournament over with so soon and to be free to lounge about watching the play proceed and absorbing California atmosphere without nerve strain.

No one would say that Bobby Jones is glad he lost, but it's a cinch he is not considering retirement.

TOUGH ON GOODMAN.
Goodman defeated Bobby in the morning and promptly lost in the afternoon to another equally unheralded player. The victory was harder on Johnny than was the defeat on Bobby, you might say.

SAME BOBBY JONES.
No defeat in the first round of an amateur tournament can dim Bobby Jones' glory.

Those of a certain mentality will decide, of course, that Bobby is slipping at last; they will be wrong, just as far off as they were in 1927 when they called Bobby a has-been after he finished far back at Pittsburg.

Bobby Jones will begin to slip WHEN HE GETS BORED WITH THE GAME and not before. And as long as he drops a match every now and then he will never get tired of playing.

MIKE ON NIGHT FOOTBALL.
Mike Donahue, one time master of Auburn's football forces, now athletic director at Spring Hill college, sees in night football a great thing for technical schools.

Little Mike, in a lengthy communication about conference prospects, offers interesting evidence in favor of the venture that suddenly has become so popular in our section.

Mike writes: "Playing football games altogether or in part by electric lights at night will certainly help attendance in some quarters, especially early in the season. Hot weather for early games undoubtedly cuts down attendance. Then it is much easier for people engaged in business to attend a football game at night than it is in the middle of the afternoon."

"Football, however, essentially is a daylight game and only where economic conditions are pressing is it advisable to play after dark."

"Artificial lighting for football is solving a very serious matter of practice in technical schools. In November, when classes and laboratory work leave less than an hour of daylight, a lighting system that will produce something like daylight conditions is of great advantage. It puts the technical schools on a parity with the academic schools in the time available for football practice."

NEVER THOUGHT OF THAT.
On the other hand, a Tech summer school student pointed out a serious objection to Coach Alexander's plan of starting games at 4:30 o'clock and playing through until 6:30 by aid of lights.

"The way they are going to run games here this fall is going to conflict with the tea-dances," he said solemnly.

The more one studies that angle the more serious the problem becomes, and one is constrained to urge Coach Alexander and Chip Robert to go slow on their twilight stuff. It would be just terrible if the regular Saturday afternoon tea-dances were interfered with; in fact, it is unthinkable; the social side of college life is far from the least important phase.

And imagine a football game without a cheering section. Or envision, if you can, beaux and belles stalking out just before the half is up with the score 7 to 6 against the old Gold and White to keep their tea-dance engagement. Imagine them clambering over the legs of "Frog" Blunt, class of 1911, just as "Stumpy" Thomson got his motor working on a long return of a punt. What would he say to them?

The chaos would be indescribable. Something ought to be done about it.

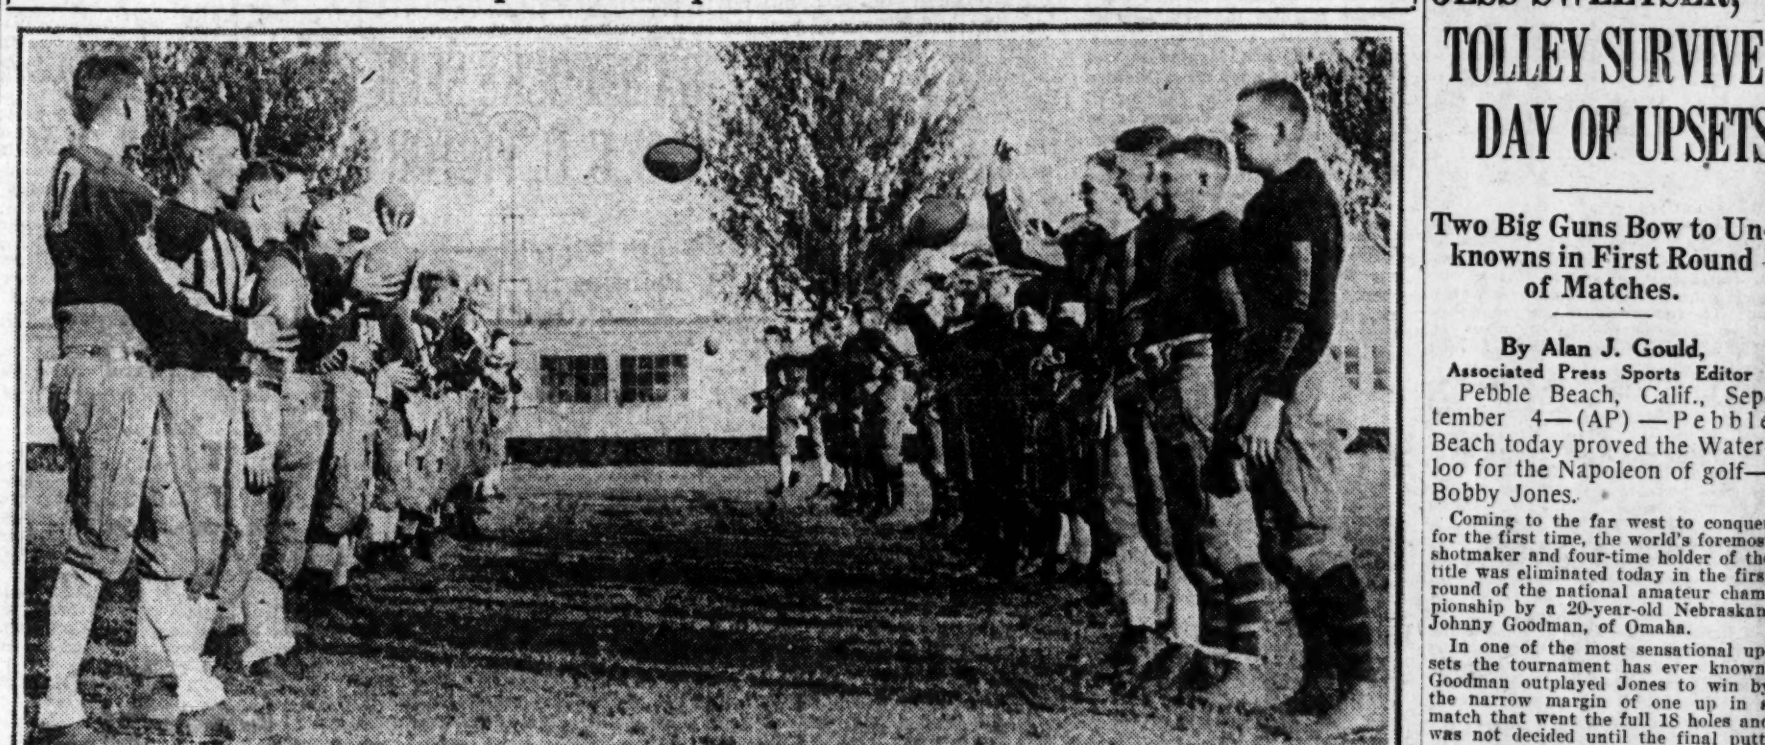

NOT SO GOOD.
Road information for those who plan to motor over to Athens to view the new stadium and the Bulldogs in practice: The road between Atlanta and Athens via Lawrenceville and Winder is not completely paved yet. In fact, the status quo is much the same as it was this time last year except that the washboard effect on the unpaved 30-mile stretch between Lawrenceville and Bogart is accentuated by the fact that most of the old top soil has been blown off the road by motor traffic. If your upper and lower plates fit snugly and only a light breakfast has been eaten, one can drive it in a bit over two hours. However, the car will need tightening after you get back.

California To Have Rooters at Penn
When the California Bears clash with the University of Pennsylvania football team at Philadelphia October 19, in the first of the big inter-collegiate games of the year, they will have a following of several thousand alumni and friends of the Berkeley school.

2-Day Meet Costs Vancouver $21,000
The expense of bringing star athletes to Vancouver, B. C., for a recent two-day amateur track and field meet amounted to $21,000. Of that sum the amateur athletes accounted for $7,432. The meet staged by the Electric Railway Workers' Association of Vancouver was a success, the gross receipts being $25,000.

JONES, VON ELM BEATEN

Midshipmen Prepare for Football Wars

EDGREN MOANS LOSS OF BOBBY

Amateur, Minus Champion, Is "Just Another Tournament."

BY BOB EDGREN.
Pebble Beach, Cal., September 4.—At 1:15 this afternoon the sun was shining brightly on the grassy slopes of Pebble Beach course and the sparkling little wavelets of Mediterranean blue Carmel bay seemed to be laughing up at the sky. But around the eighteen green a great and gayly dressed crowd held its breath in stunned silence, while in the middle of the green the famous Bobby Jones, looking very much as if he had just been hit on the head with a mallet and was gamely trying to smile it off and pretend that he wasn't hurt, held out his hand to congratulate one John Goodman, like a sportsman he is and always will be.

Bobby had just been standing quietly by, with what inward agonies no one knows, to see Goodman sink his putt that put Jones out of a championship tournament in the first round—incidentally the first time in his life that anything like that ever happened to Bobby.

You might have thought the crowd had just looked on at a particularly atrocious murder. It hardly gave the victor a handclap, but dispersed slowly to gather again at the big black scoreboards and watch the chalked figures go down, still unwilling to believe that the great Jones had been beaten. Everybody had counted upon watching Jones through the rest of the week. No one had thought of the possibility that he might be put out in the first round. And by Goodman. Who was Goodman? Some unheard-of player from Omaha. The crowd watched the scoreboards and talked in low whispers punctuated by groans.

That was only the beginning of a cataclysm of crashing defeats. Von Elm went out, beaten by Chandler Egan. Melvin Storey, Findlay, Held, Coleman, Don Moore, Bourne, and others dropped one by one until the survivors left for Thursday play were Tolley and Williams. Phil Voight and Johnston, Egan and Sweetser, Quimet and Little.

The afternoon round furnished more shock than the morning, but it was the exception of the Jones crash, but it developed two interesting figures that may to some extent make up for the absence of the only Jones, Cyril Tolley, English amateur champion, flashed over the fairways like a comet. It is a pity Jones won't be here playing in defense against the name that Tolley is showing, now that it is man against man and not medal scores. Still, of course, there are good men to meet the British thirty-mighty good men. Tolley beat out Held, 7-6, and Coleman, 8-6. Four under parns Tolley was in each match. Marvelous golf.

The other sensational figure is Lawson Little, 18-year-old "going on nineteen" San Francisco boy. Little is the bird who remarked after the qualifying rounds that he was "going after the big ones," and it was no boast. What did he do? In the morning round he eliminated Findlay, fighting all the way and ending victory by sinking a 40-foot putt for the birdie four he needed and in the afternoon he eliminated the newly famous John Goodman, victor over Bobby Jones, in a ding-dong battle that went to the seventeenth green, 2 and 1.

Plenty of fighting, sensational golf, but when the day was done the defeat of Jones by Goodman was still the great sensation of all. Give the boy credit. He beat Jones on his nerve. He outplayed Jones, out-battled him hole after hole, out-rallied him down the fairway, out-thought him. Jones and Goodman started next to last this morning. A high fog obscured the sun glare, but all was clear and dry along the fairway. Cool too, and not breath of air stirring. As they waited on the tee spectators near me whispered: "Look at that poor boy. He's so nervous he can't stand still. He's beaten already. See how calm Jones is." So it looked, too, but a long experience in sport told me otherwise.

U. S. G. A. Ban Forecast On 18-Hole Matches

Defeat of Jones and Von Elm May Cause Revision of Championship Scheme.

By Bill Wise.
(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)
Pebble Beach, Cal., September 4.—The defeat in 18-hole matches here today of Bobby Jones and George Von Elm, the United States Golf Association's ranking players, may cause the parent organization to ban all short-round championship matches in the future.

The national amateur championship is finally decided over the 36-hole round and this distance has been universally accepted as a fair championship test. Bobby Jones has pulled three 18-hole title matches out of the fire during the past two years and George Von Elm lost today over the same distance for the third consecutive year.

In spite of the fact that Von Elm has been unable to get under way in the last three national amateur championships, the United States Golf Association continues to rank him next to Bobby Jones, rated the greatest amateur.

Maurice McCarthy had Bobby Jones defeated at Minikahda two years ago when he made an inexcusable blunder and lost the match.

Rae Gorton led Bobby for 17 consecutive holes at Braeburn last year. Bobby didn't do the unexpected, but Gorton slipped enough to permit Bobby to win the last two holes and square the match. Bobby won the first hole.

VON ELM'S BREAKS.
Von Elm hasn't been so fortunate. He lost to Harry Legg, of Minneapolis, last year when golf critics in the country agreed that George would have been the victor at the end of a 36-hole match. Today marks the first time Von Elm has ever been defeated by Chandler Egan several times over the 36-hole round.

The merits of the 18-hole match have been argued pro and con for years. Bobby Jones, playing his best golf of his career, went to England in 1921 and lost an 18-hole encounter to V. Campbell, an opponent who was not highly rated even in his own country.

T. A. Bourne, Jess Sweetser, Harrison Johnson and Rudy Wilhelm were forced to go extra holes for first time in the first round. Phil Finlay, a semi-finalist in the national amateur at Braeburn last year, lost on the eighteenth green here at Pebble Beach this morning when his opponent made a 40-foot putt after losing four strokes to par on the first three holes in the last qualifying round yesterday. Finlay contributed the most brilliant and nerve exhibition of the week by holding 14 consecutive pars and birdieing the eighth to make the championship bracket.

GOODMAN LOSES.
Lawson Little, four strokes over par for the first nine holes in his match with Johnny Goodman, the youngster who defeated Bobby Jones this morning, lost three more strokes on the next few holes, but still defeated Goodman, 2 and 1. Proof conclusive that Bobby Jones would have won from Goodman over the longer route.

The U. S. G. A. officials here today refused to be quoted, but even the uninitiated realize that the men who guide and guard a national golf are seriously considering a change. The one solution seems to be trimming the field to 128 players, and the U. S. G. A. officials claim this would prevent an equal number of promising golfers from getting a shot at the championship.

Sometime will be done—even the U. S. G. A. officials would hesitate to start a national amateur tournament without Bobby Jones and George Von Elm in the field, and strange things do happen in golf.

Martin Kayoed By Zazzerino
Bayonne, N. J., September 4.—(AP) Young Jack Zazzerino, hard punching Bayonne lightweight, knocked out Eddie (Cannonball) Martin, of New York, one-time bantamweight champion of the world, in the seventh round of their 10-round bout here tonight. Zazzerino weighed 120 pounds; Martin 125.

CRACKERS LOSE SECOND, 12 TO 3

Oldham, Moore, Rauch Shelled by Pels—Atlanta Falters.

New Orleans, September 4.—New Orleans ran wild here this afternoon and handed the Crackers their second straight defeat of the series, 12-3.

Manager Good rushed Moore to the mound to relieve the faltering Oldham, but he could not stand the heavy attack of the Pels bats and was forced to give way to Rauch, who finished the game for the Crackers. The Pels collected 14 hits off the three Cracker hurlers. Harder and Beane worked the mound for the Pels.

Par Shattered By Cruickshank
Flushing, N. Y., September 4.—(AP) Bobby Cruickshank, midge professional of the Progress Club, Purchase, N. Y., turned in a pair of fine rounds over the Pomponck Country Club course today to lead the qualifiers in the Metropolitan P. G. A. golf championship. "Wee Bobby" was five strokes under par with a 67 for the morning round and bettered perfect figures again in the afternoon round with a 71 for a total of 138.

Wiffy Cox, of the Dyker Beach Club, Brooklyn, took second place on the last with 76-73-143 while Johnny Farrell, of Quaker Ridge, former national open champion, was bracketed at 144 with James Innes, of Hempstead, and Tom Kerrigan, of Swanoy, Kerrigan had in the afternoon round of 88 to put him among the leaders.

Thirty-one players qualified in today's play. The extra place in tomorrow's match play was allotted to the defending champion, Gene Sarazen.

Hurricanes Win To Enter Finals
Westbury, N. Y., September 4.—(AP) The Anglo-American team, the Hurricanes, led by Stephen Sanford, defeated the hustling Rosyls in a 12-period match to enter the final of the national open polo championship today. The final score was 8 to 7. Captain C. T. I. Roark broke the 7-7 tie which lasted through three extra chukkers with a brilliant 40-yard drive.

VON ELM BOWS.
Jones had plenty of illustrious company as he left the tournament. It was another "black Wednesday" for the double-barreled day of match play as George Von Elm of Detroit, the 1926 champion, passed out quickly for the third straight year, along with Gene Homans, of Englewood, N. J., co-medalist with Jones, Gibson Dunlap, of Los Angeles, whose 69 in the opening qualifying round made him a sensation, and Phillips Finlay, another California favorite.

Although the hectic moments and upsets, with five of the 16 matches going to extra holes and all the stars, save Tolley, George Voigt and Francis Quimet, having played plenty of golf in the past, the steady shooting of Clarence Hubby, the lone Texas entry, while Finlay, a semi-finalist last year against Jones, shared the champion's fate by losing to William Lawson Little, Jr., 18-year-old San Franciscan, one up.

FORTUNES SHIFT.
Fortunes shifted with dazzling rapidity. Chuck Hunter, the tall shot-maker from Tacoma, was four up on the tenth on T. A. Bourne, of England, apparently headed for a quick victory. In fact the scoreboard con-

Tech Ticket Sales Break All Records

Dr. A. H. Armstrong, chief-of-staff at the Georgia Tech Athletic Association, announced Wednesday afternoon that every season ticket of the block held in the office at the North Avenue school for alumni had been sold and that many demands had been perforce refused during the course of the day.

Sale of the remaining season tickets, comprising approximately one-third of the 6,000 printed this summer, will open at the downtown office at 267 Peachtree Monday morning.

Armstrong reported the biggest advance sale in the history of the school. Of the 6,000 tickets made, two-thirds were reserved for the alumni and the faculty members, with each man entitled to consideration in this first list able to purchase maximum of four. These 4,000 tickets have already found their homes.

A great number of individual game tickets are available in the office at the school and more will be on sale at the Peachtree store starting early next week.

This increased demand is almost a sure indication that the double-decking scheme which has occupied the minds of the authorities at the Flats for some time will soon cease to be a dream and will become an actual fact by the opening of the season in 1930. Present plans call for the addition of a second story to the west stands. These new seats should hold the jackets for another year or two, but in the near future—providing the caliber of the teams at the Flats does not take a drastic tumble—the Grant field stadium will extend closer to the ceiling.

Yellow Jackets Set Through First Signal Drill of Season

CAPTAIN RUSK LEADS 'VARSITY' THROUGH PACES

John Pickett Suffers Season's First Injury During Workout.

By Herb Clark.

After two days of playing around at the most rudimentary maneuvers—calisthenics, punting, passing, and correct methods of play—Coach W. A. Alexander took the second step in the development of his Golden Tornado Wednesday afternoon when he put on a short signal drill at the close of the practice.

The early moments of Wednesday's session resembled those of Monday and Tuesday so much so that many of the players stayed around for dessert, however, received their reward, in the slow progression towards the day when the blast of the referee's whistle will be heard at the flats.

Alex had several combinations reeling off plays. What was very clearly his first combination since it held the majority of the letter men—was headed by Captain Harrell Rusk at center. He was flanked by Jim Brooke and Joe Westbrook, while "Cool" Watkins and Vance Maree danced around at the tackle posts.

Earl Dunlap, who has been first choice in summer books on the race for the quarterback post, was calling the signals Wednesday. His backfield was composed of the "Little Mighty," Stumpy Thompson and Doug Graydon, Little Rock sophomore flash, at halves, and "Moonbeam" Luna, fullback.

Luna, a chunky 170-pound powerhouse, has had plenty of experience at the fullback post. He has spent the past two years on the Grey Devils after season with the freshmen, and has become wise in the customs and methods of the gridiron. Wednesday he was trucking about with all the skill of a veteran and looked good for the first string job, though he will have plenty of competition.

The plays used in the drill were of the stereotyped kind. Off tackle, around end, and a punt or two occupied the engineers during the first session.

The dummy scrimmage, lasting for nearly an hour, followed the usual routine work of setting-up exercises, and instruction by the various coaches. But one new arrival was chalked up Wednesday, as Edwin Hall, a halfback from the ranks of the battalion teams, was issued his uniform and settled down to work.

The first casualty of the season was carried off the field yesterday when John Pickett, back from last year's freshman team, threw his knee out of place in practice. He was hurt at the start of last season and was unable to play for the greater part of the year, and his hand looks as if he had followed him to the varsity field.

Marist, Fulton Begin Practice

Marist college and Fulton High school began the annual football practice Wednesday afternoon on the Marist campus and at Brishine park. An unusually large number of candidates reported for practice at both places.

Boys' High and Tech High started practice Monday at Piedmont park, and G. M. is expected to start Friday after the opening of school. Decatur High, University School for Boys and Peacock are expected to start Monday afternoon.

Joe Bean, head coach of Marist, twenty-sixth year as coach of Marist in the initial practice Wednesday afternoon and was as smiling as he looked over his prospects for the season. Only two or three vacancies remain to be filled and Coach Bean had a reason to be all smiles. His 1928 team was composed mainly of juniors and sophomores and he is expecting a banner year.

Fulton High held its first session, a lecture and instruction hour, Tuesday at the school on Washington street, but Wednesday afternoon the initial practice was held at Brishine park with Coach J. R. Hammack in charge. Approximately 35 youngsters were out for the first time, and a few additions to the list are expected next week at the opening of school.

West, East Meet In Semi-Finals

Philadelphia, September 4.—(AP)—Two Pacific coast players and two of the Pacific Northwest players advanced to the semi-final round of the girls' national tennis championships today at the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

The survivors were Helen Marlowe, California; Evelyn Parsons, Palo Alto, Calif.; and Sarah and Miss Palfrey, Boston. Miss Marlowe will meet Miss Palfrey in one of the semi-finals and Miss Parsons will clash with Sarah Palfrey in the other.

The Hollywood star registered the second upset of the tournament in the quarter finals today by defeating Virginia Rice, Boston, 4-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Little Sarah Palfrey, 16-year-old defending champion, eliminated Olive Wade, Canadian women's champion, 6-1, 6-4.

NICKER SHOT ON FOURTEENTH BEATS JONES

'Calamity Jane' Also Fails Atlanta on Many Greens in First Match.

By George Von Elm.

National Amateur Champion, 1926
(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Pebble Beach, September 4. Bobby Jones' defeat at the hands of young Johnny Goodman here this morning, overshadowed even the most disastrous first results in national amateur history. I had predicted some startling upsets, but initial results here today left most of us in a daze.

Bobby Jones could have but little trouble defeating Goodman today if the match had been scheduled for 36 holes, but that also is golf. Sometimes—golf as champions play it—doesn't even go enough to defeat golf as potential champions play it.

OFF TO A BAD START.
Bobby got away to a very bad start, losing the first three holes, and Goodman never let up. Goodman, by the way, is a former caddy, now working his way through the University of Nebraska. Two years ago in Kansas City he leaped from comparative obscurity to overnight fame by winning the trans-Mississippi championship, but he played the best golf of his career today.

Before I tell you more about Goodman and Jones, I want to pay my profound respects to Chandler Egan, the grand old veteran from Portland, who defeated me this morning. Chandler started qualifying in the national amateur in 1902, before many of us were born. He kept shooting at the cup that is being disputed here until 1904, when he achieved the amateur spotlight by winning the championship. He repeated the year following.

This morning Mr. Egan started after his third crown and nothing I could do could show him up. He gave me plenty of opportunity to win but it was just one of those days. I couldn't take advantage of the few mistakes he made in a way that would have won me a hole. He picked up the seventeenth when he exercised a beautiful recovery shot from the sand to lay me a dead stymie. I was eight feet from the cup—his ball was ten inches, and I couldn't do it.

COULD NOT PUTT.
Bobby couldn't putt today but it was his miscalculation that really defeated him. Bobby started to cut down Goodman's three-putt on the eighth hole, but he missed. He birdied the sixth but lost the seventh when he three-putted. Bobby whiffed the eighth hole that has been causing him trouble since he missed a 15-foot putt to win the ninth. He was one down at the turn.

Goodman refused to let up, but the huge gallery behind a sign of relief when Bobby squared the match on the twelfth.

Bobby's downfall occurred at the fourteenth. He crashed into a typical "Jones woods" and was just short of the green, behind a deep trap. Goodman was safely on in three. Bobby cleared the match-making magnificent route to the cup but his pitch was short and buried itself in the sand. Bobby played a great explosion shot but went one down to Goodman's par five when he missed a 15-foot putt for a halve.

Bobby was 15 feet from the pin after a fine iron to the fifteenth and Goodman hit a spectacular shot and rolled into a bad trap. Goodman rolled first and his excellent shot rolled to within seven feet of the pin. Bobby rimmed the cup on his birdie try and Goodman—nothing daunted—dropped his putt to remain one up.

Bobby was within 12 feet of the cup on the sixteenth and Goodman, playing from the edge of the green, laid his approach putt right smack on the lip of the cup. Bobby's ball was in all the way, but less than two inches from the hole decided to roll off.

Goodman played an unbeatable shot to the seventeenth, carrying 225 yards from the tee to within 10 feet of the flag. Bobby's shot was a few feet further away, two of the prettiest shots of the day. I have heard Bobby Jones called a "lucky golfer," but it shouldn't happen today. Bobby hit the back of the seventeenth cup perfectly. The ball hesitated, hopped up and stopped on the far edge of the cup. I have never witnessed a more heart-breaking thing Goodman played carefully to get down in two and started for the home green one up.

TWELVE-FOOT PUTT.
Goodman might have been playing all alone as far as Jones and the huge gallery were concerned. He played straight through the fairway to the back of the green and Bobby, playing from the inside, left himself another 12-foot putt that would not drop for the birdie that would have squared the match. Goodman left himself a two-foot putt that he missed to hand Bobby his first national amateur defeat since 1926, when I managed to win my first national. Incidentally, Bobby's defeat today is his second in six years of national amateur championship competition.

Cyril Tolley played the most brilliant golf of the day to defeat Johnny Field. Fay Coleman, a Los Angeles youngster, defeated Eugene Homans. Phillips Finlay lost to Lawson Little on the eighteenth and started within a home 30-foot putt for a birdie. Finlay couldn't run down his 8-foot try.

DUNLAP "OUT."
Gibson Dunlap, the brilliant youngster who led at the start of the qualifying play, didn't have a chance with Clarence Hubby, the Texas Tornado. Roland MacKenzie came from behind with a rush to win from E. F. Storey on the nineteenth.

Francis Quimet was never in trouble and played brilliant golf to win from David Smith. Jones and Sweetser were both one down going to the eighteenth, to Hoffman and De Paolo, respectively. Hoffman found the ocean with his second and Sweetser squared the match with a carefully played par four. He birdied the first extra hole in the tournament.

Johnny De Paolo had Johnson in a bad way but jumbled a putt to lose the eighteenth and was unable to match Harrison's par on the nineteenth.

T. A. Borne also won his match from Chuck Hunter on the nineteenth. Dr. Willing matched experience against whittling. Lee Pendergrass, Pendergrass was in the lead most of the way but lost the sixteenth and seventeenth.

Jones, Von Elm Lose In Sensational Upsets

ceded it to him once but a recheck showed the battle still on and Bourn very much in the running. The Briton squared the contest on the sixteenth and won on the 19th. Another British, Eustace Storey, who plays in gloves and a sack coat, was one up going to the home hole with Roland MacKenzie, of Washington, D. C. There the young American sank a 20-foot putt for a birdie four to square the match and he won on the 20th hole.

Two other stars, Jess Sweetser, of New York, and "Jimmy" Johnston, of St. Paul, were carried to the 19th before they emerged victorious from the opening three holes. Sweetser, a California, and Johnston, a California, were both one up going to the home hole with Roland MacKenzie, of Washington, D. C. There the young American sank a 20-foot putt for a birdie four to square the match and he won on the 20th hole.

The effect of the defeat of Jones was so stunning that the crowd that was greeted by the galleries as an anti-climax, especially as it developed unexpectedly until Goodman, the brilliant youngster, stepped into the spotlight by fading out of the competition at the hands of the youthful Little.

REDUCED TO EIGHT.
After the shooting was all over, the field of 32 that started out so confidently this morning was reduced to a group of eight—three from the far west, three from the east and one each from the midwest and Great Britain. The two smallest triumphs were the quickest of either round, but Voigt, the New York favorite, came back on his game to displace the hole-in-one king, Vincent Dolp, by 4 and 2, and then Don Moe, holders of the western championship.

Voigt came close to par golf in the first round and was under par in the afternoon as he made the turn 2 up on Moe. This was the outstanding match of the second round, with Moe playing even and Voigt, who was only to trail, and then make a gamewinner Von Elm.

Amateur Tourney Loses Color As Jones Leaves

rather favored the restless eagerness of Goodman. There was no fear in those bunched jaw muscles. None of the nervousness that hurts. Just grinning. And Jones seemed almost to be playing for the first time. He would only go 14 holes or so, at the best. The crowd and a few who were betting, agreed on that. He was only a 157 qualifier, against the champion.

The first hole, Goodman drove well, but Jones far beyond him, to the end of a guarding trap, but not into it. Goodman hit a trap at the left, over the edge of the green. Jones twice short, Goodman out close to the cup. Jones putted short and conceded. It was an accident, of course, as every one agreed. Bobby hadn't started to play.

But Goodman took the second hole after both had been in sand traps and Jones in much better playing-out position. Goodman's ball lay almost at the edge of the cup for a fifteen foot putt. Jones missed a tap and Goodman's ball away with his putter and he looked very much chagrined.

Then Goodman took the third hole, after a short putt. Jones took the fourth, 3-4. The fifth was halved, 3-3.

Jones took the sixth, 4-6. Goodman won the seventh, 3-4. Goodman's ball was in the hole, pulled his second across the fairway. Goodman won on a long hill, past a cliff and a corner of the sea, over traps to the green. The ninth was halved three holes. Half way Jones was one down.

The huge gallery was smiling and clapping as the putts sunk, secure in the notion that Jones was still invincible. But the tenth was halved and the eleventh halved by birdie three. On the short twelfth Jones pitched neatly to the green, while Goodman was trapped. Jones evened the match on the thirteenth as Goodman, who had been in the hole, rolled his ball across the green into a shallow sand patch. After approach and putts Jones was stymied, two feet from the cup. He pitched over Goodman's ball right into the hole for a half. Very fine work. Goodman laughed appreciatively. Shucks, that boy wasn't scared.

And then, on the fourteenth, came the players that broke Bobby's heart. Jones hit a screaming drive down the middle, a whale of a brassie to within easy pitch of the green. Goodman sliced his drive into the rough, pulled his second across the fairway. Goodman won on a long hill, past a cliff and a corner of the sea, over traps to the green. The ninth was halved three holes. Half way Jones was one down.

SHORT GAME FINALLY BEAT BOB, SAYS RICE

Omaha Youth, However, Player Great Game To Topple Jones.

Elm lost to Chandler Egan, his third 18-hole defeat in the last three years. The spectre of these 18-hole matches has been haunting Bobby Jones for the last three years, and today turned out to be something more substantial than a phantom.

It turned out to be a king-killing dragon in the person of a former caddy who is now a good-looking young man, his way through Omaha University at the age of 20. His name is Johnny Goodman, a thin, lean-cheeked, leonard boy from Omaha who dropped a fine game goller, always with a smile, Bobby Jones from the national amateur championship in the first round.

By the narrow margin of 1 up, the margin was a matter of split hairs, of half breaths in one of the most exciting golf matches ever played. Knowing that young Goodman was a fine game goller, always with a smile, I followed every stroke of this match and I don't believe any one in the big gallery ever saw holes crammed with so much excitement.

They saw young Goodman, cool and collected, take the jump by winning the first three holes. He won the first two with pars and the third with a birdie 3. And then, just as Jones seemed to be sinking from sight, he came forth with birdies on the fourth and sixth, and this led down to a single hole. As Jones came charging forward the gallery of 5,000 or 8,000 spectators, swarming down the hill, saw the young caddy, who had been to take it for granted that Jones was now under way and the rest would be a matter of time.

FIRST OMINOUS SIGN.
But the first ominous sign came at the short seventh hole where Jones pitched about 12 or 14 feet from the cup. At this hole he went too badly for his 2, over the edge of the green, coming back to be 2 down again. Goodman then lost the eighth where he had a chance to win by placing his second in the trap, but he failed to do so. The next big turn of excitement came at the eleventh hole. Jones was on the green in 2, 12 or 14 feet away. Goodman's ball was in the hole, and the young caddy, who had been to take it for granted that Jones was now under way and the rest would be a matter of time.

In the full that followed Jones stepped up and dropped his putt of 14 feet for another 3. Jones then won the 12th hole, and the match was on for the first time. Once again the gallery figured that it would be a Jones romp for the rest of the way.

But just at this point there came two extremely interesting holes that were full of the psychology of golf. At the thirteenth Jones hit a great tee shot, opening up the middle. Young Goodman barely cleared the traps and the rough. His second was sliced into a fairly deep bunker at the right. Jones then hit a 10-inch putt to the hole. Jones had a chance to plant the knockout blow. He had been three down. He had caught his man and he had a simple chance to win. But his pitch was brought along. But his pitch was brought along. But his pitch was brought along.

WORTHY SHOT.
This shot is worthy a more extended description. Jones had pitched his 4 and the ball had stopped 10 inches away from the cup. Goodman putted for his 4 and his ball stopped 10 inches away from the cup. Goodman putted for his 4 and his ball stopped 10 inches away from the cup. Goodman putted for his 4 and his ball stopped 10 inches away from the cup.

Marksman Uses 164-Year Old Rifle in Matches

Camp Perry, Ohio, September 4.—Carrying a flintlock rifle 164 years old, Captain John G. W. Dillin, of Media, Pa., arrived today for the national rifle competition. He announced that he would show the great throng of marksmen assembled here how our ancestors shot deer and Indians. Archie Isaacs, the only Indian at Camp Perry, has refused to pose as a target and there are no deer in the vicinity. However, the captain will have an opportunity to try out his ancient gun against the swiftly moving targets of the running deer range.

Last November Captain Dillin shot deer with his old rifle in the Canadian woods and today he produced a friend, Charles White, of Aylmer, Ont., as a witness. Captain Dillin is a connoisseur of rifles. He has handled over 700 of them which have been sent to him by collectors from all parts of the country to be appraised and catalogued.

KENTUCKY RIFLE.
"The gun which I have brought with me," said Captain Dillin today, "is of the type known as the Kentucky rifle. It was made in 1765 and has been in use most of the time since that date. It is one of the finest specimens in the country and is one of the few of its kind which has been preserved in Pennsylvania. It was an early settler of Berks county to defend himself against a hostile Indian in 1770. The Indian was killed. The gun is in as good condition today as it was when it left the gunsmith's hands 164 years ago."

The old Kentucky rifles, continued Captain Dillin, "in spite of their name were manufactured in Pennsylvania. The best of them were turned out by gun-makers of Lancaster county, where one may still see the ruins of several old gun factories. So many of them were sold to the early settlers of Kentucky that they are known as Kentucky rifles. They are not smooth bores but are actually rifled this work was beautifully done with the crudest kind of machinery and tools."

CASTS OLD BULLETS.
As soon as Captain Dillin reached Camp Perry he started to cast bullets for his old gun. The weapon is a muzzle-loader and the charge is black powder. The bullet is cast in a powder horn. The bullet is wrapped in a patch of cloth before it is rammed home and a patch takes the place of the firing pin. The motion which increases its accuracy as the modern rifle.

Captain Dillin himself traces his ancestry back to the back of the old Kentucky rifles were manufactured and to the section of the country where they were turned out. He comes of an old Pennsylvania family. Both of his great-grandfathers fought under Washington. Captain Dillin is the author of "The Kentucky Rifle."

BALLARD UPSETS DOPE IN TAKING MARINE TROPHY

Civilian Takes Shoot Honors for First Time Since 1913.

Camp Perry, Ohio, September 4.—(AP)—For the first time since 1913 the marine corps trophy in the national rifle matches went to a civilian here today when Richard W. Ballard, Denver, Colo., scored 99 out of a possible 100.

Sergeant James Moseley, a marine, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Captain Jacob Lienhard, another marine, also had 90 scores but were given second and third places, respectively, because they had fewer shots than Ballard in the inner circle of the bull's eye. There were 1,385 contestants for the marine corps trophy.

Lieutenant J. G. Kramer, U. S. navy, defeated 776 contestants to win the Scott trophy with a 75. Second and third places also were taken with 75's by Seaman M. M. Crider, navy, and Corporal J. L. Laine, marine.

In the civilian club members' match, three riflemen had scores of 96 out of a possible 100. C. A. Smith, Toledo, was awarded first place. Second and third places went to L. E. Wilson, Cosmo, Wash., and E. O. Swanson, Minneapolis, respectively.

H. J. Gussman, Connecticut civilian, shot a score of 109 out of 200 to win the small bore Wimbledon cup match. W. Rostrom, of Sidney, Ohio, was second with 194. J. C. Jensen, District of Columbia National Guard, took third with 193.

Harvey Hill, St. Louis policeman, won the National Rifle Association's pistol championship match with a score of 281. Arthur Sackett, New York policeman, was second with 277 and Sergeant Melvin Cripp, marine, District of Columbia, was third with a 276.

Georgians Show Improvement.
Camp Perry, Ohio, September 4.—(Special.)—Reports from the second day matches show that the Georgians are improving. Most of the players are getting in the money and placing higher in the lists. E. B. Barrett, the high score man in the trophy, held at Fort McPherson last June, for the civilian and also high score man, both of the Fourth Corps Area, R. O. T. C. team, took tenth place in the civilian division of the navy cup match. His score was a 92 out of a possible 100.

At 200 yards offhand, Sergeant J. K. Bell, of the national guards, placed twenty-eighth in the Wimbledon cup match and thirty-third in the Wright memorial match, crowding down canals prizes for these places. Four national guardsmen placed in the members' match, Captain J. L. Spencer, Lieutenant H. A. Sappington and Sergeant R. T. Brown.

In the same match S. N. Dunwoody of the civilian, fired a 48 to win a place, and J. S. McDonald, of Atlanta, came in with a 47. In the navy cup match the national guards came in for four places again. Those placing in this match being Lieutenant P. A. Spaulder, Corporal R. E. Endicott, Sergeant W. T. Thompson and Sergeant S. A. McCleod. Most of the civilians practiced offhand today in the rain. The big match tomorrow is the president's cup match.

THE HAWK

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Douglas Doring, a young British peer, is sent to Dartmoor prison on the pretext of a man in love with him. In reality, he is a famous aviator, but to his knowledge from his mother and her worry, he has been using the name of Douglas Doring and as a result of his mother's worry, he is now in Dartmoor. INSTALLMENT X. REPORTS FOR THE CHIEF.

Doring knew he would have to give Cora some kind of explanation as to why they must leave the hotel at night. If he were to give her the true one, his family name might eventually be smirched with disgrace. However, his secret hope of being able to resume his true name with Cora ever at his elbow, knowing she is secret and able to betray it at him, would hardly be worth having. It was an awkward and dangerous position—dangerous because Cora was probably right in guessing that the police would be keeping some kind of watch on the road.

Giving her time to reach the coffee room, he went downstairs. The first person he saw was Hugh Granston, the porter who was loading up the palmer. Then came sudden inspiration. "I suppose you haven't got room for a little 'un—on the grid or under the bonnet, have you?"

"Rather," agreed Hugh. "Coming all the way?"

"If I may."

"Good! I'll put it up to the lid 'un, but I know he'll jump at it. But we start in—"

"Eleven minutes thirty seconds. Don't be one second later or I'll be ratty all the way."

"I'll be on time—with one suitcase, thanks, most awfully."

Doring hurried back to the suite. "Unless we run into Spilhaus himself or some warden who knows me personally—which is out of the question—there's only a police description against the word of a high court judge, but his guest is not Doug Harris, escaped convict, but is the son of a baron of undisputed respectability, one lineal friend of the said high court judge. Good enough."

There was the bill—and there was Cora. The bill was easy enough. In his breast pocket was a wad of bills, supplied by Cora. He must pay the bill with Cora's money—there was no help for it. He counted the notes—twenty-five pounds in currency and twenty-five in bank notes of varying denominations.

"Cora does things in the grand manner. Him! Better make it quite clear that I don't intend to rob her—she's quite capable of thinking that. Trouble is, I don't know her address. And I can't give her mine. . . . I know, Harris can do his bit here. He always wore he was grateful to the poor old guy."

He picked up a pen and wrote: "Dear Cora: It is impossible for us to stay here any longer—the manager has spotted we are not married. Upon him a yarn so as to keep us safe until lunch time. You had better clear out before the clock is one of your own notes with which please pay the bill. I have worked a sort of confidence trick on some people here and can get away. Please write me—Mr. Sefton, care of Mr. Jarvis, Newsagent, Theobald's road, London, and give me an opportunity to repay all the money you've been throwing about on my account."

He left the note on the mantelpiece, then went downstairs and swung the suitcase into the palmer. Hugh was already at the wheel.

"Morning, Douglas," said the judge. "Glad you're coming with us. Tumble in, boy. We're starting at once."

Five minutes later Cora was reading the note Doring had left for her. For a moment only she stood in uncertainty, then she went downstairs and tackled the porter.

"What's that—another beauty idea?"

"I was so ashamed last night when company came. Pa set in there with his feet on the table and a hole in one toe I overlooked when I was darned in."

FARM BOARD ANNOUNCES PLAN FOR GIANT COTTON FINANCE, SALES BODY; SAVANNAH DELIVERY POINT

NEW YORK BOARD DESIGNATES CITY AS FUTURES PORT

Contracts Maturing in October, 1930, and Thereafter, May Be Laid Down at Coast City.

ACTION FOLLOWS REPEAL OF BILL

Notification Says Exchange Believes Move Will Aid Growers in Georgia and Section.

New York, September 5.—(Special.)—The board of managers of the New York Cotton Exchange today designated Savannah, Ga., as a point of delivery of cotton for contracts executed on the exchange.

"This action was made possible by the recent enactment of legislation in Georgia removing restrictions against trading in futures contracts," it was explained by Gardner H. Miller, president of the exchange.

"This is regarded in the trade as a constructive step which will react to the advantage of the cotton growers of Georgia and adjacent territory, as well as to the interests of the New York Cotton Exchange through enlarging its sphere of service to the south in marketing and distributing the cotton crop."

The adoption of Savannah as a delivery point, which becomes effective on contracts maturing in October, 1930, and thereafter, will give six southern points of delivery in addition to delivery at New York on New York Cotton Exchange contracts. The five southern delivery points previously designated by the board are Norfolk, Charleston, Galveston, Houston and New Orleans.

The by-laws of the exchange give the board of managers the authority to designate additional points of delivery, upon due notice, without the membership of the exchange voting approval of the action.

J. Hope Tigner, president of the Atlanta Commercial Exchange, said Thursday that the selection of Savannah as a delivery point probably would be a distinct advantage to the entire state. The request of Atlanta to be named as a delivery point now is being considered by the New York exchange.

A brief, setting forth Atlanta's economic advantages, was presented to the metropolitan body Thursday by George Harris, president of the Exposition Cotton Mills. The paper was prepared by the Atlanta Commercial Exchange with the cooperation of railroads and other industries and commercial organizations.

Mr. Tigner said that the naming of Savannah was in line with the exchange's policy of having points as delivery points. The other points now are Norfolk, Va.; Charleston, S. C.; Houston and Galveston, Texas.

CONFEDERATION OF ALL EUROPE WINNING FAVOR

Briand's Idea Grips Delegates at Geneva Who Are Favorably Impressed; Not Anti-U. S. Move.

Geneva, September 5.—(AP)—The idea of Aristide Briand, premier of France, for formation of a European confederation, received such impetus today that he has decided to invite representatives of all European nations to confer with him on the subject early next week. The conference will be unofficial and devoted largely to examining the possibilities of the vast project.

At that time M. Briand proposes to reveal his own ideas of how such a confederation, which he now says should have a political as well as economic basis, could be created without loss of national sovereignty on the part of the participating governments.

The French premier and Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister of Germany, dined tonight with Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain, just before M. MacDonald's departure for London. M. Briand seized this opportunity to outline roughly his conception of the European confederation and what it would mean.

Economic War Feared.

All European leaders, beginning with Briand himself, repudiate any intimation that the suggested confederation would be hostile to America.

However, there exists an impression that the project looms in European minds as a logical consequence of the economic power achieved of late years by the United States. Europe is described as being driven by the very force of events, and even against her own will, into defending herself against growing American competition on the one hand and dangerous communistic propaganda on the other.

Conversations continued today respecting amendments to the statutes of the permanent court of international justice, more commonly known as the World Court. Many of the delegates called to their governments asking for authority to sign the protocol approved yesterday by the international conference of court members.

This protocol was prepared by Elihu Root and other experts in an effort to meet American reservations which were not acceptable to other members of the court.

If it is signed by all present members, the way would be cleared for approval by the United States and for adhesion of the Washington government to the court.

CAPITOL PREPARES FOR BATTLE ON COURT.

Washington, September 5.—(AP)—Administration endorsement of the Root formula for American adherence to the World Court was given today through Secretary Stimson, and advisers of the president, who quickly from the administration group in the senate, which eventually will be asked to ratify the proposal.

The opposition at the capitol, which came from the League of Nations irremediable, lulled in volume, however, with word from the state department that it appears unlikely that President Hoover will submit the World Court proposition to the senate before another year.

The president is understood to hold that the assembly of the League of Nations shall formally approve the revised American reservation to adherence, and that each of the signatory nations shall go through the necessary steps for ratification before he calls upon the senate to act. Such a course means a year, at least, it is believed, before the issue again goes before the senate.

The announcement by Secretary Stimson endorsing the revised American reservation worked out by Elihu Root brought announcement of disagreement by Senator Moses of New Hampshire, one of the republicans of the senate.

Senator Johnson of California, another republican of the committee, previously has assailed the Root proposal. Chairman Borah of the committee reserved comment today with the remark that "as Lincoln said, 'One war at a time, and I am now dealing with the tariff.'"

These three senators originally opposed American adherence to the court.

The note of the secretary of state to the secretary general of the League of Nations gave the first definite work from the Hoover administration on the Root formula. In that note Mr. Stimson said he considered the new basis for American adherence to the court "would effectively meet the objections represented in the reservations of the United States senate and would constitute a satisfactory basis for the adherence of the United States to the protocol."

CITY HALL LEASE ACTION HELD UP; PAPER REFERRED

Palmer Bid Sent to Committee When York Says $800,000 Cash Offer Will Be Made Soon.

Basing its action on announcement of Councilman Harry York, of the sixth ward, that a cash offer of $800,000 for the present site of the Atlanta city hall would be made within 30 days, city council Thursday afternoon declined to permit a vote on a proposal of Palmer, Inc., to lease the tract for 99 years for an aggregate rental of $5,730,000.

The Palmer paper was sent to a joint committee composed of the special city hall and buildings and grounds committees of council with instructions to study the measure more thoroughly and to accept any further offers.

Action of council followed a two-hour debate in which virtually every member of council participated at one time or another and during which a veritable deluge of motions, substitutes and amendments were presented.

Palmer Silent on Plans.

C. F. Palmer, of Palmer, Inc., Thursday night declared he had not been officially notified of council's action and had not been in touch with his clients. He was not in a position to say whether the offer of his company would remain open or not.

Mr. York's announcement of the cash offer for the site, at Marietta and Forsyth streets, came to council unexpectedly, and he backed it with an assertion that the firm which would present the offer would post a certified check for any reasonable amount or a large surety bond guaranteeing performance at the time the offer is made. Immediately on its acceptance, he said, the full amount of $800,000 would be paid into the city treasury.

Attack on the Palmer offer brought the fire of a group of proponents of the proposal who declared the city should treat bidders fairly, and who warned that if the city did not act in a business-like manner other offers might not be made for the tract.

The Palmer offer provides for payment of $2,250,000 for the first 50 years of the lease runs. At the expiration of the 50-year term, provision is made for extension for another 13 years in the event the lessee wish an extension for $95,000 annually, and at the expiration of the last term for another option for 36 years at $75,000 a year. This would make a total rental of $5,730,000 for the 99-year term.

Offer Is Assailed.

Included among other members who assailed the proposal was Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second ward and chairman of the special city hall committee of city council, who declared that he had favored the lease.

MIDNIGHT WRIT PREVENTS DEATH

Attorney Charges Witness at Trial Unsworn and Ocmulgee Jurist Restrains Electrocutation.

BOYKIN CHARGES FALSE PLEADING

Prosecutor Will Seek To Have Writ Voided Today; Governor Hardman Studies Appeal.

His execution set for today stayed by a habeas corpus writ, granted shortly after midnight this morning, a bitter fight for the life of Alvin Eugene Merritt was in prospect for today when Solicitor-General John A. Boykin charged the writ was obtained through a misrepresentation of facts to Judge J. B. Park, of Milledgeville, whose order stayed the execution.

H. A. Allen, chief of Merritt's counsel, obtained the order from Judge Park at Milledgeville on the ground that one of the chief witnesses against Merritt was not sworn at the time of her appearance on the witness stand.

"Every witness appearing against Merritt was duly sworn," Mr. Boykin said, when hearing that the stay was granted. "I shall so inform Judge Park the first thing in the morning and ask that he rescind the writ."

MERRITT IN TEARS.

HEARS OF STAY.

Milledgeville, September 6.—(Friday.)—A writ of habeas corpus, automatically staying the electrocution of Alvin E. Merritt, 25-year-old Atlanta, scheduled to die in the electric chair today, was issued late last night by Judge J. B. Park, of the Ocmulgee circuit, and served on Judge H. D. Way, superintendent of the prison, shortly after midnight this morning by B. W. Allen, attorney for the condemned man.

The writ was issued on the grounds that one of the state's principal witnesses had not been sworn at the time the witness testified against Merritt. Judge Park's order calls for a hearing of the writ to be held in chambers at Greensboro, September 6.

BURST INTO TEARS.

When Judge Deway acknowledged receipt of the order in Merritt's presence, he burst into tears and cried, "Thank God! I knew my death in the chair could not be." The overwrought man almost became hysterical. All the while offering supplications, he kept reiterating the statement, "I knew it could not be; I knew my death would not occur."

The issuance of the order is the second time Merritt had been held on the eve of his electrocution. He was brought to the prison from his cell in Atlanta last month to forfeit his life and the governor gave him a respite in order to give the prison commission an opportunity to make a study of the case. The prison board denied him clemency and he was sentenced to die this morning.

Twice Convicted.

Merritt was convicted of two charges of criminal assault on women in Atlanta. He was first tried and given a sentence of 16 years. At a subsequent trial, he was given the death penalty. Territt, slayer of C. A. Perry, Kingsland banker, sentenced to die with Merritt, would be executed at the same time.

All during the day the man was strong in his belief that he would not enter the little green door that is less than five paces from where he is confined and leads to the death of electrocution. He declared that if the governor refused his plea for mercy he was certain that providential interference would occur. "It is my faith that saved me," he declared.

GOVERNOR TO RULE ON APPEAL TODAY.

Governor L. G. Hardman announced Thursday night that he would make his decision on Alvin E. Merritt's plea for clemency this morning.

The governor likewise announced Thursday that his decision on the clemency appeals of Homer Simpson and Malcolm Morrow, slayers of C. A. Perry, Kingsland banker, sentenced to die with Merritt, would be announced this morning.

Governor Hardman took records of the three cases to the executive mansion where he left his office for lunch, and did not return to the capitol until the afternoon. Inquiry at his home developed that he would make known his decision today.

Appeals of Merritt, Simpson and Morrow for clemency were turned down by the state prison commission after the three men had been denied new trials. Simpson and Morrow were sentenced to die on Friday, September 13.

Attorneys H. A. Allen and W. A. Covington represented Merritt in the hearing before the governor. Assistant Solicitor General Ed A. Stephens appeared for the state. Simpson and Morrow were represented by Judge John W. Bennett, of Waycross, and J. W. Pharr, of Brunswick.

Greatest Search Fails To Locate Missing Transport

Gallup, N. M., September 5.—(AP)—The Transcontinental Air Transport passenger plane City of San Francisco which flew out of Albuquerque, N. M., Tuesday morning with eight persons aboard, still was missing tonight, apparently down in the wild and almost uninhabited section along the New Mexico-Arizona border.

The army, navy, T. A. T. and other air lines in the vicinity were combining in the greatest search for the air ever witnessed in the west, but the fate of the plane, its five passengers and three crew members was as much a mystery today as it was Tuesday.

Tracing a report, accepted as true last night by the T. A. T., that the plane had been found and that its eight passengers had been killed, T. A. T. officials today found that a Gallup school bus driver, credited with being the one who started the rumor, had heard the story from an unidentified man in a shoe shining establishment here.

Further reports that the plane had been seen from the air; that the approximate spot of its crash had been located and a half-dozen other rumors, proved erroneous as searchers systematically traced them down.

While searching planes dived overhead, 600 Zuni Indians, crack woodsmen of the southwest, scoured the rugged country in the vicinity of their reservation at Zuni, N. M., near here. Unverified reports said the plane had fallen in that vicinity.

Acquainted with the country as others could be the Indians searched throughout the day but returned to their reservations without having found any trace of the plane.

Spurred by the announcement of T. A. T. officials that $5,000 would be the reward for the man who found the missing transport, searching parties on foot and on horseback went out from almost every one of the few small communities in this section.

Headquarters for the search was moved here this morning after the reports that the plane had been located had been received. Telephone facilities into Gallup were at a premium as calls from all parts of the country regarding the plane came in during the day.

John Herlihy, chief engineer of the Transcontinental Air Transport arrived here by plane this morning and spent most of the day in a small scout plane, accompanied by two Zunis, scouring the country for miles around. He returned this afternoon and expressed the opinion that the plane was not down in this vicinity.

CONCERN PLANNED ALONG SAME LINES AS GRAIN BODY

Board Also Announces Additional 10 Per Cent Made Available to Unhedged Cotton.

TO LOAN TWENTY MILLION IN 90 DAYS

New Plan Gives Farmers 90 Per Cent of Value of Cotton Sold or Held by Co-Ops.

Washington, September 5.—(AP)—Plans are under way for the formation of a national cotton financing and selling organization by southern cotton co-operative marketing associations, with the approval of the federal farm board.

The board announced the organization would serve as central body for co-operative cotton similar to the manner in which the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, now being formed, is expected to serve grain co-operatives.

Adoption by the board of a policy of centralization of efforts in marketing agricultural commodities for all other farm products also was made known today. In a statement, the board announced it had arranged for an additional 10 per cent loan to cotton co-operatives of unhedged cotton, pledged under loans not in excess of 65 per cent of its face value to the intermediate credit bank.

The supplemental loan will permit the co-operatives to advance to its members 75 per cent of the value of the unhedged cotton at the time of delivery. Chairman Alexander Legge said the board expected to loan $20,000,000 in the next 90 days as a result.

Previously the board agreed to advance 25 per cent of the value of cotton on which associations had fixed a definite price by contract or hedging, the advance to be supplemental to a 65 per cent loan already made by intermediate credit banks. This would give the farmers 90 per cent of the value of their hedged cotton whether it was actually sold or held by the association.

"The two types of loans," the board said, "are expected to meet every merchandising need of the southern co-operatives in their transactions with their membership, and should result in a very considerable increase in deliveries and in membership of the associations themselves. The amount of money involved will be limited only by the demands of the co-operatives. Referring to the projected national

IDENTITY OF GIRL WHO TOOK POISON IS ESTABLISHED

The uncertainty which has surrounded the identity of a young woman who Monday took her life with poison was removed Thursday when Mrs. Lillie Kelley, of Nashville, Ga., visited the J. Austin Dillon undertaking chapel and identified the body as that of her daughter, Mrs. Ella F. Legett.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the graveside in Greenwood cemetery.

The young woman swallowed a poison dose Monday at the home of her employer, W. A. Allen, of 282 Sydney street. He brought her to the hospital, where her name was given as Mary Elana. It was this name that was used in the official verdict on the following day when a coroner's jury found that she had committed suicide, although several persons had testified to having known her under other names.

The first clue to her real identity came Wednesday when Mrs. Kelley called the J. Austin Dillon company and expressed her belief that the body was that of her daughter. Mrs. Kelley came to Atlanta Thursday afternoon and definitely established the identity.

STOCK BREAK CUTS VALUES BILLION

Flood of Selling in Last Hour Sweeps Market. Losses Range $3 to $18.75.

New York, September 5.—(AP)—Upwards of one billion dollars in quoted values was washed away in a sudden flood of selling which swept over the New York Stock Exchange in the last hour of trading today. The reaction, which came with startling suddenness after pools had succeeded in marking up scores of issues $2 to $14 a share, many of them to new high records, was the worst since the break which followed the raising of the New York federal reserve discount rate from 5 to 6 per cent a month ago. Net declines in many active stocks ranged from $3 to $18.75 a share.

Wall Street was inclined to lay the blame on the publication of a statement by Roger Babson, well known economist, that a break in stock prices rivaling the Florida land boom was imminent. Later, many observers agreed that it was a natural correction of a top-heavy speculative position created in the feverish bullish activities of the last few weeks.

Market Nervous.

The market was a bit nervous at the opening because of the increase of more than $400,000,000 in stock exchange member loans last month, announced at the close of yesterday's market.

Early selling was well absorbed, however, with the retention of the 5-1/2 per cent discount rate by the Bank of England, setting at rest recent rumors of an increase, as a stabilizing factor. Pools became bolder as the session progressed and started to whirl up their favorites, first in the copper and then in the public utility and railroad groups.

Bulls were advancing at a brisk clip when a storm of selling developed in the industrials and the whole market turned downward.

So great was the flood of selling that the ticker quickly fell 25 minutes behind the market and was nearly an hour late in recording the last quotation. The day's sales ran over $500,000,000.

NEW YORK BANKS DECLARE BUT HALF MILLION CHANGES HANDS ON FAKE ORDER

No Money Lost in Swindle

New York, September 5.—(AP)—The American Bankers' Association here today to solve a financial riddle unprecedented in the history of banking, the puzzle being that a man had apparently got it all fixed up to obtain $500,000 that didn't belong to him, and then didn't take it.

On August 30 six of the city's largest banks received code telegrams bearing the signatures of banks in Denver, Col., ordering them to place $500,000 to $100,000 each in the Chase National bank to the account of the Bank of Telluride, Col.

The banks did as they were requested. The Chemical Bank and Trust Company and the First National bank deposited $100,000 each, and the Equitable Trust Company, the National City bank and the Harriman bank $75,000 each.

Last Saturday a man saying he was C. D. Waggoner, president of the Telluride bank, appeared at the Chase National bank and presented cashier's checks for certification. He had documents identifying him and the Chase bank certified the checks, totaling $500,000. The man then walked out and has not been seen since. Nor, so far as the Chase bank knows, has he cashed any of the checks.

"The whole transaction was perfectly regular, so far as we are concerned," an official of the Chase bank said today. "The money was deposited with us by the six banks and we are satisfied it was Mr. Waggoner, whose checks we certified. We have had no word at all from the banks which deposited the money."

The district attorney's office notified of the affairs by Harriman bank sent out a general alarm for Mr. Waggoner, or his double, in an effort to find out what it was all about, and the bankers' association hired private detectives to take up the trail and follow it all over the country if necessary.

In the meantime the certified checks were still at large and no complaint has been received from the depositing banks the Chase bank made no move to stop payment.

DENVER REPORTS MONEY SECURED

Denver, Col., September 5.—(AP)—Bank officials were trying today to unravel the details of a half-million-dollar transaction involving transfer of that amount from Denver to New York banks on alleged unauthorized telegraphic orders sent from Denver to American Bankers Association code. Meantime a search was being made for C. D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Telluride, Col. Bankers here said Waggoner presented drafts at the Chase National bank, New York, to which the Denver funds were transferred, and deposited part of the certified drafts in other banks to cover indebtedness.

The attorneys here for the Chase National bank said that Waggoner had presented last Saturday three drafts made out to himself for $225,000, $200,000 and $70,000. These drafts were said to have been signed by the cashier of the Bank of Telluride. The Chase National bank certified the drafts and Waggoner discharged an obligation of $100,000 of the Telluride bank and $100,000 of the Chase National bank with the $200,000 draft. He turned in the $70,000 draft to discharge a personal obligation of that amount. The $225,000 draft was deposited with New York bank. C. E. Downtain, cashier of the Bank of Telluride, reported today that he had been notified that the bank had been given a credit of $195,000 at the First National bank at Pueblo and $30,000 at the Continental Bank of Salt Lake City.

On discovery of the alleged unauthorized telegrams sent from Denver to the New York banks, private detectives were put to work tracing the movements of Waggoner. He was learned to have left his home August 25 and to have been in Denver up to August 28.
